5,000 CHINESE AT SWATOW LOST LIVES IN STORM

Building Values Up Land Values Down In Cities of B.C.

Municipal Inspector Reports To Attorney-General That Municipal Expenditures Continue Increase; Tax Arrears Less But Land Reverting to City Grows In Amount; Debenture Liabilities Also Higher.

Land value assessments in British Columbia municipalities show a drop of more than $16,000,000 during the last year, but assessed values of improvements show an increase of nearly $25,000,000, according to the annual report of Robert Baird, B. C. Inspector of Municipalities, made to-day to the Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General.

Mr. Baird's report to-day is said to be the most elaborate statistical report published anywhere in the world.

Tax levies in municipalities during the last year have not changed materially. There has been a decrease of about $1,500,000 in tax arrears but an increase of nearly the same amount in the value of lands held by municipalities which were taken over at tax sales.

Greenwood with 64 mills has the highest tax rate in the Province, while Port Moody with 25 mills has the lowest rate. Other rates are: Vancouver 31.666; Victoria, 32.06; Alberni, 35; Chilliwack, 50; Courtenay, 25; Duncan, 29; Kamloops, 40; Ladysmith, 37; Nanaimo, 47; Nelson, 41.75; New Westminster, 45; North Vancouver, 32; Port Alberni, 40; Prince Rupert, 37.31; Vernon, 46.

Of the municipal districts Fraser Mills has the lowest rate of 9 mills; South Vancouver the highest with 65 mills. Other mill rates are: West Vancouver, 26; Surrey, 24; Sunnyside, 20; Esquimalt, 23.5; Mission, 27; North Cowichan, 13.31.

Increased Expenditures.

"Municipal expenditures for the year have increased, however, from $20,686,963.59 to $22,591,159.74," Mr. Baird says.

"The items showing the heaviest proportion of increase being expenditures on roads and streets, on administration of justice, and on schools."

"It is to be noted that although the taxes actually collected were slightly over $1,000,000 greater than the tax levied for the year, yet the total of the moneys received during the year was approximately $750,000 less than the amounts paid out."

"It would suggest that the greater portion of this deficit is the result of an unfortunate policy of keeping the tax rate as low as possible regardless of the condition of the balance at the end of the year."

"The policy which is being followed shows no prospect of getting rid of the burden of current liabilities, which seems as a matter of fact to be increasing from year to year."

"The amount of the taxes levied in 1921 was $12,357,869.84, as compared with $13,802,623.39 in the previous year."

"Money by lands certified during the year amount to $1,567,372.38, as compared with $2,149,057.35 in the previous year."

"It is pleasing to note that a substantial increase has been made in the amount of moneys received from public utilities; the receipts during the year being $2,911,165.51, as compared with $2,503,420.92 in the previous year, and comparing these receipts with those of the year 1917, the first year of which there is any complete record, it shows an increase from $1,889,742.17."

"The amount of the arrears of taxes outstanding is $6,964,164.66, as compared with $8,482,065.57 at the close of 1920. This shows a substantial reduction of the tax arrears, but at the same time the investments of the municipalities in lands purchased at tax sale have increased from $5,247,788.34 to $6,907,912.65."

Assessment Figures.

"The assessment figures show a reduction of $16,356,381.24 in the (Concluded on page 9.)"

Murderers' Threat Causes Einstein to Leave Germany

PROF. ALBERT EINSTEIN

Leipzig, Aug. 5.—Professor Albert Einstein, originator of the theory of relativity, has fled from Germany temporarily because he was threatened with assassination by the same group which caused the murder of Dr. Walter Rathenau, the German Foreign Minister, according to a letter from Professor Einstein cancelling an engagement to address a meeting here. Efforts to induce the noted scientist to return, in view of the Government's success in coping with the situation, are said so far to have proved unavailing.

RAILWAY STRIKE DEADLOCK IN U.S. STILL PROBLEM

Efforts to End Walkout and to Extend It
Idle Employees' Leader Called to Washington

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Comparative calm prevailing in the railway strike situation for several days gave way to-day to renewed activities both for ending the six weeks' old walkout and for making it more effective. Peace conferences were pending in Washington. New strike threats came from the maintenance-of-way men and other union workers, and a conference with President Harding was sought by the "Big Four" brotherhoods for the purpose of presenting their views of the strike. Congress indirectly came into the negotiations.

Eastern railroads sent detachments of shop workers to the relief of roads in coal mining districts in Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky, and outbreaks of violence were reported from points hitherto peaceful.

R. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, the shopcrafts leader, was in Washington, where he was summoned by President Harding. Union chiefs here looked upon Mr. Jewell's presence in the capital as indicative of further settlement parleys.

COAL STRIKERS AND OPERATORS TO MEET IN U.S.

Settlement Effort in Cleveland Next Monday

Washington Action If Failure in Cleveland

Chicago, Aug. 5.—With a possible peace in sight in the coal strike, federal and state officials to-day were withholding no action calculated to bring about a speedy resumption of production, but continued preparations for a contingency should the projected settlement plan fail.

The meeting Monday in Cleveland, Ohio, of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and other union chiefs, with representatives of coal operators in the central competitive field was looked upon as the final independent peace effort of the warring factions. It was believed generally that should the Cleveland conference fail, President Harding would take some drastic action toward ending the threat of the mines.

France Ceases To Pay German Pre-War Bills

Paris, Aug. 5.—Premier Poincare at noon to-day notified the German Embassy in Paris that the first of a series of measures to conserve the French interests against a lapse in Germany's pre-war debt payments would be put into effect immediately. The notice followed the receipt of a note from Germany refusing to meet the $2,000,000 instalment of these payments to French citizens due August 15.

The first of the French measures consists of the immediate suspension of all payments to German nationals for debts contracted with Frenchmen before the war, both in France and Alsace-Lorraine. The offices in Paris and Strasbourg which were set up to liquidate these debts were notified to cease functioning at once and to pay no more German claims until further orders from the Premier.

The opening measures also include the suspension of all further payments to Germans for German property sequestered in France. This property includes estates, villas, art collections, etc.

The agreement reached at Baden-Baden under which Germans were being compensated for the house furnishings, stocks, bonds and cash left in Alsace and Lorraine also has been suspended.

Not Penalties.

It was explained at the Foreign Office that these first measures taken are not penalties in the strict sense of the word, but merely action to safeguard the French interests which have been jeopardized by the German refusal to pay.

If these measures fail to bring a satisfactory settlement, further and more severe measures, it was said, will be enforced. The nature of these is withheld, pending the effect of the present action.

Move Awaited.

Official circles said that France would now wait some move by Germany.

The German Charge d'Affaires brought the German answer to the French note to the Quai d'Orsay a few minutes before twelve o'clock. Premier Poincare pronounced it unsatisfactory and gave orders that the application of the French measures should begin. He left for his home five minutes after noon and his reply was sent to the German Embassy a few moments later.

In his reply the Premier notified Germany that her "dilatory" answer

Order Restored.

Rome, Aug. 5.—It was officially announced in Rome to-day that complete order had been restored in Milan, Genoa and Ancona, where violent fighting took place yesterday and last night between Fascisti and Communists.

Rome, Aug. 5.—Guerilla fighting of a bitter character between the Communists and Fascisti continued yesterday throughout the labyrinth of Genoa's narrow, winding streets. The capture of two machine guns, several red flags and other trophies by the Fascisti is reported.

A fierce engagement between Fascisti and Communists occurred in the Via Canonica, Milan, when the Fascisti and Communists occurred in the Via Canonica, Milan, when the Fascisti invaded and wrecked a Communist club. Two were killed and many on both sides were wounded. The Fascisti attacked the building of the Socialist newspaper Avanti! in Milan, partly wrecking the plant before they were ejected by Royal guards. The number of casualties is not yet known.

In Milan.

Milan, Aug. 5.—Using lorries as battering rams, Fascisti smashed through the front door of the Socialist Club here yesterday and then set the building on fire. Upon recognizing the young Communist deputy, Repossi, who is a mechanic, the Fascisti set upon him and clubbed him severely.

The Fascisti published a manifesto saying the municipality would be returned by them to whomever would guarantee normal administration.

VICTORIA'S FIGHT AGAINST DOLES FOR UNEMPLOYED FAILS

Prairie Delegates Swing Conference in Favor of Last Year's Relief Methods

Calgary, Aug. 5.—(Special to The Times).—Victoria delegates to the unemployment conference here fought vigorously to-day for their resolutions against the dole system of unemployment relief but their alternative proposals, in favor of actual relief work for unemployed, were rejected. Prairie delegates to the conference contended that useful work could not be done during Winter months and their resolutions in favor of last year's dole system were endorsed.

Aldermen E. S. Woodward and Reginald Hayward, Victoria, protested strongly against the dole system, which they declared had worked out most unsatisfactorily on the Coast. They urged that the Federal Government should aid municipalities to carry on constructive work which would provide employment and at the same time create permanent assets. They proposed that the Federal Government should provide all relief necessary for disabled men and ex-service men, that Provincial Governments should take care of all men without dependents and that cities should look after men with dependents.

They suggested that the Federal and Provincial Governments should aid cities in all civil relief measures by contributions of fifty cents a day for every man aided. The Victoria delegates advocated standard union wages on a contract system, on public works carried on for relief purposes.

Ask Representation.

The unemployment conference last night decided to petition the Federal and Provincial Governments to have invitations sent to the municipal governments of Canada to attend the big Dominion-wide unemployment conference which is being arranged to be held in Ottawa.

They suggested that the Federal and Provincial Governments should aid cities in all civil relief measures by contributions of fifty cents a day for every man aided. The Victoria delegates advocated standard union wages on a contract system, on public works carried on for relief purposes.

CONVENTION IS HELD AT VICTORIA

Associated Boards of Trade at Cumberland

Courtenay, B.C., Aug. 5.—Thirty-three delegates from eleven out of the twelve Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island assembled at Cumberland Hall last night at the G.W.V.A. Hall last night at the G.W.V.A. Hall for the annual convention, with President G. I. Warren in the chair.

The convention got down to business at eight o'clock, and the following committees were appointed: Resolutions committee, J. W. Coburn (N.A. chairman), Geo. Clinton (Cumberland), John Stewart (Ladysmith), Ed. Whyte (Alberni), Dr. Kerr (Duncan), J. H. MacIntyre (Courtenay), W. H. Spencer (Victoria), credentials committee, L. H. Carey (Cumberland), F. H. Menzies (Gulf Islands), Rev. E. M. Cook (Cheminuise), W. H. Davies (Sidney) and E. Lowe (Ladysmith).

The president read his annual report upon which he was highly commended, and it was decided to have a picnic at 9 p.m. about seventy sat down to a supper provided by the Cumberland Board of Trade, John Sutherland, president, A. W. Clinton, M.P. for Comox-Alberni, in reply for the Province of British Columbia, made a witty and shrewd speech which greatly interested his audience.

At first, said Mr. Neil, the House laughed when he said that the tariff was a geographical question, they were always quoting this sentiment—all but the prairie people, who were so struck on free trade they won't take an umbrella when it is raining because it is protection.

Mr. Neil said the Fisheries Commission, of which he was a member, was coming out to get the poor fisherman's side of the question which Parliament had never heard before. Royal commissions had come out before. They had stayed at the Hotel Vancouver, they had been taken out in cars to the canneries and shown a fish trap, and they had gone back and heard only one side, and that the rich man's side.

Stating his policy, Mr. Neil said, "I am not a Liberal. I don't attend their caucuses. I'm married to the district of Comox-Alberni, but I stand in the wisdom of the Government as a son-in-law, and I may say I get on very comfortably with the old lady." He pointed out that he was the only man on Vancouver Island who was not always moving votes of want of confidence in the Government, and therefore he claimed that he was a son-in-law of the Government.

Dr. Tolmie had laid claim to a great deal of credit for getting the works on the drydock at Victoria carried on, but he thought he had helped at least as much. He would always be glad to serve the interests of the people of Comox-Alberni, and he was the people of Comox-Alberni.

Tom Graham, in proposing the toast of the associated boards, said that the scope of their work was of interest, and asked delegates to use moderation in their remarks from the Government. Mr. Menzies, M.P. for the electoral district of Comox, pointing out how large it was in extent and how diversified its interests. He also pointed out that the Government should look for concessions which the financial condition of the Province made impossible.

This morning the convention got down to business at ten o'clock. The boards represented at the convention are: Courtenay, Comox, Cumberland, Duncan, Sidney, Gulf Islands, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Alberni and Ladysmith.

Statistics.
Mr. Warren, taking up some statistics of the province and particulars of the Island said:
"I am unable to quote the approximate value of the fishing production on Vancouver Island alone, although the Dominion Government statistics show that in 1921 the output of our fisheries in the whole Province was over $9,000,000 less than in 1920."

Salmon and halibut contributed 87 per cent of the total value of the fishery. The amount of capital invested in vessels, boats and traps and piers for catching and landing fish in the whole Province was $7,500,000 while the number of employees was 10,622. In the fish canning and curing business the capital invested in the Province was $12,000,000 while the number of employees was 4,471.

"These are the Provincial statistics and it is not possible to state what proportion belongs to Vancouver Island."

Dish Hatcheries.
The Dominion Government is operating three fish hatcheries on Vancouver Island which had an output during the current season of over 1,000,000. Of this number 4,000,000 were distributed as eggs, 3,500,000 as fry in the free swimming stage, and the balance of 600,000 being fed in retaining ponds and will be liberated after they have attained a length of from 3 to 3½ inches.

The fact that fishing being one of our chief industries, is on the decrease, would possibly indicate that more efforts be made to protect the industry by having the best closed season or adopting other legislation before the fish are exterminated.

Roads.
During the year the Provincial Government has expended $64,885 on roads in the Alberni District, which takes care of 586 miles and 506 miles of trails. They have also expended $82,595 on 425 miles of roads and 78 miles of trails in the Comox District. $42,350 on 204 miles of roads and 3½ miles of trails in the Courtenay District. $112,727 on 176 miles of roads and 60 miles of trails in the Esquimalt District. $72,377 on 289 miles of roads and 12 miles of trails in the Ladysmith District. $8,144 on seven miles of road in the Saanich District. Totalling this you will see that on Vancouver Island during the past year the Provincial Government expended on roads, trails, bridges and wharves the sum of $527,283, taking care of 1,984 miles of roads and 187 miles of trails.

In referring to roads I would call attention to the fact that Government engineers report extraordinary traffic and state that heavy trucks have caused a large outlay in repairs to the main trunk roads. Legislation limiting said traffic during wet months would be welcomed.

The operation of the proposed new 2000 foot ferry would save the Government $100,000, and it is hoped that it could then be made limiting the traffic over the road.

The Vancouver Island mineral products for 1921 were $19,190,000, made up as follows:
Gold.....$2,450.00
Silver.....380.00
Miscellaneous minerals.....$725.00
Building materials amounting to $1,000,000, as follows:
Pottery and clay.....$ 750.00
Sand and gravel.....$ 35,424.00
Brick.....70,000.00
Cement and lime.....273,328.00
Cement.....620,466.00
Coal, 1,625,931 tons.....$129,655.00
Of this amount 320,110 tons were exported to the United States.

Agriculture.
The yield acreage under cultivation and value of agricultural products of Vancouver Island for 1921 has not yet been ascertained. The investigation of these figures from British Columbia is proceeding at the present time.

Schools.
During the year five new schools were established, located at Menzies Bay, near Seymour Narrows; Bayview Cove, near Alert Bay; Oyster Bay, near Campbell River; Upper Seymour, north of Seymour Narrows, and East Sooke.

"Contracts were let by the Government for the following alterations to the established schools: Langford, near Cove, near Alert Bay; Oyster Bay, near Campbell River; Upper Seymour, north of Seymour Narrows, and East Sooke."

The only large consolidated school in operation on Vancouver Island is located in the city of Duncan. The school has in attendance the pupils residing in that city and also a large number of those in the rural municipality of North Cowichan.

The cost of each pupil on enrolment to the Government in the year 1917-1918 was $22.64, while in 1920-1921 it was $29.01. The cost of each pupil in actual daily attendance in 1917-1918 was $27.93, while in 1920-1921 it was $36.38, showing that during the year the cost per pupil for education purposes has increased considerably.

Exports and Imports.
Statistics show that during 1921 the Customs officials of the Dominion Government collected in revenue at Nanaimo $242,812.70, and at Victoria $1,052,454. The imports amounted to $1,351,645.

Timber.
"Vancouver Island is included in the Vancouver forestry district, and returns cover the whole district, making it impossible to quote the Island's quota of this resource. During 1921, 354,050,000 feet were scaled on Vancouver Island. This, however, represents a small proportion of cut, a larger proportion having been towed to Vancouver and scaled there."

"I wish particularly to call your attention to the necessity for very strict measures being taken to prevent forest fires. During the present year over a million dollars has already been lost in the Province through forest fires, and I am informed over 1,500 forest fires have occurred up to date, 586 of which were in the Vancouver district, which includes our Island."

"The Provincial Government last year has given considerable publicity to the necessity of preventing fires in the woods. In addition to carrying advertising matter in the various papers, circulars were issued, bearing publicity matter relative to slash burning, 22,000 posters bearing excerpts from the fire law, and in addition 30,000 envelopes bearing pictorial warnings to fishermen were distributed to the various sporting goods houses, when used as wrappers for the fishing tackle. Last year 45 prosecutions were issued for burning without a permit, fourteen for leaving camp fires burning, five for refusing to fight fire and seventeen for miscellaneous causes."

"During last year 1,330 fires occurred. In spite of the publicity work carried on, fires caused by campers and travelers still head the list, with 508 fires, or 23 per cent, while the operation of railways is attributable to 253 or 21 per cent. Industrial operations and lightning were the cause of 119 and 164 respectively. The percentage being 9 and 12 respectively."

"It is to be regretted that such a large percentage of fires are caused by persons carelessly leaving camp fires or dropping lighted cigarette stubs and legals as well as educational work should be carried on."

"Last year timber to the amount of 68,000,000 feet was killed by fire. The Government is endeavoring as far as possible to protect standing timber, and is now maintaining three fire wireless telephone stations located at Vancouver, Myrtle Point and Thurlston Bay, where last season 2,000 messages were received and relayed between May and September."

"The forest protection equipment now in possession of the Government consists of 41 launches, 34 cars, 75 pumps, $8,800 feet of hose with the shovels and general equipment for 2,642 men, representing a capital expenditure of $147,000.

"Last year 220 miles of trail were cleared and constructed during the year. These figures cover the province, and are given merely to call your attention to what has already been done."

Railway Development.
"During the past year the C. & N. Railway has graded the Great Central Lake branch from Port Alberni to Central Lake. The trails are laid to Stamp River, where a steel span is now in the course of erection. Completion of the rail to Stamp River is now furnishing facilities for overload shipments from two small mills in operation in that section. "Several large timber structures were required renewal on the E. & N. and have been replaced with steel spans, making a permanent way. During the past year eight steel bridges have been replaced with twelve miles of standard 50 pound rails. Service was inaugurated between Victoria and Courtenay during May, with improved freight service, which it is hoped will help increase trade between different centres of Vancouver Island."

"No construction work has been done on the Canadian National line on the Island during the past year."

Tourist Development.
"I have above mentioned the increased facilities for ferrying and automobile to the Island, and am confident that the development of this trade will be rapid during the next year or two."

"The city of Victoria alone this year is expending $25,000 for publicity purposes, and the Nanaimo Rotary Club with the co-operation of the Board of Trade and the City Council at that place have had printed some literature, which is assisting the development of tourist trade."

"The many resorts and hotels on the Island should be encouraged in every way, and these establishments are becoming well known throughout the country."

"Many of these tourists who come to the Island on pleasure will no doubt return to their homes with a new knowledge of the possibilities offered here, as well as information regarding our wonderful natural resources."

Among results attained since the last convention Mr. Warren mentioned the following:
The Dominion Government has acceded to our request by improving the Sidney mail service, and the Sidney Board of Trade is to be congratulated on its perseverance in that matter."

"Through the efforts of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia, a freight rate bureau has been formed and a freight rate expert will be placed in charge. This, no doubt, will be keenly appreciated by every shipper in our Province, and the idea was first suggested through a resolution of this association at the last convention."

"The Dominion Government has improved the mail service between Alberni and the West coast. This is a most important step, and is being requested more adequate facilities for ferrying between Vancouver and Nanaimo, and between Victoria and Port Alberni. The Nanaimo service is being improved by the Victoria and Nanaimo service being established. An automobile ferry is now being operated between Anaetoes and Sidney."

"The directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau have now proven that the lack of adequate transportation facilities for automobiles is a serious handicap to the organizations which have been endeavoring to attract tourists. Two boats are now being operated each day on this new run. During the month of July one of these boats carried 739 automobiles, seven motorcycles and 3,752 passengers. Loving the popularity of the run. Since the operation this one connection has brought over 1,000 automobiles to the Nanaimo service by operating the Chalmers between Vancouver and Nanaimo on Saturdays and Mondays. This boat carries a large number of cars, and is so constructed that limousines and closed cars can be accommodated."

OLD MEN TO SEE MOVIES AND CHEW

Old men at the Victoria Old Men's Home at the Willows are to have their own movies.

Attorney-General Manson heard that the old men were not seeing any movie shows and were expressing a desire to get some of the present day thrills from the domes of garing actors and actresses and beautiful backgrounds, chiefly of scenery in this Province of Victoria.

Mr. Manson immediately arranged for films from the Government film department to be sent out to the home. The shows will be given every two weeks.

Arrangements are to be made for the old men to chew gum and pens while the shows are in progress, and smoking during the movies may be permitted. J. J. McLennan, McIntosh, superintendent in charge of the old men, will censor the pictures so that there will be no danger of any old man tripping or causing trouble through too exciting scenes being thrown on the screen.

PATHFINDERS RECEIVE HANDSOME MEDALS

Two handsome gold medals have been specially made by Little & Taylor to be presented by the City of Victoria to the two auto pathfinders who recently arrived in Victoria from Edmonton and whose arrival here incidentally was recently featured in the moving picture news service and thrown on the screens of the Victoria theatre house.

The medal is in the shape of a wheel with a mountain scene engraved in the centre. On the outside are the words: "Presented by the City of Victoria, July 1922, Edmonton to Victoria." The medals will be mailed to the men, Charles W. Neimeyer was the first man to reach Victoria from Edmonton by the C. & N. Canadian route via Jasper and Yellow Head Pass. George P. Gordon, who receives the other medal, was the first to arrive in the city, and took part of Washington to make the journey.

PLAN A DOMESTIC WATER SUPPLY FOR GREATER VICTORIA

Farmers Could Use Water for Irrigation If They Wished; To Get Facts

Members of the Greater Victoria Committee started yesterday to shape plans for giving inhabited districts about the City a full and satisfactory domestic water supply.

Under these plans no attempt would be made to launch any extensive irrigation scheme, as that is considered impracticable at the present time. The proposal now under consideration is that every possible home around Victoria be supplied with water for domestic use. If farmers care to use this water for irrigation purposes they will be able to do so, but there is no intention of attempting to line up the farmers in favor of an expensive irrigation project, it was explained today by members of Alderman David Leeming's sub-committee which has the water plans under advisement.

The water district comprising Victoria and all adjoining districts would be created and would be administered by a water board, if the Greater Victoria's Committee ideas were carried into effect. If farmers who were supplied with water under this scheme wished to use it in large volume for irrigation arrangements whereby one extensive district could irrigate for a certain period of hours at a stretch would be made, it was explained. Apart from this, however, farmers could use their water for whatever purpose they pleased.

Alderman Leeming's committee which is investigating water problems will get complete details about the present supply of water available from the Sooke Lake system from F. M. Preston, City Engineer, and the Water Commissioner. Mr. Preston will confer with the committee at a meeting next Thursday.

BURIED YESTERDAY

New B. C. liquor prices will be announced by Attorney-General Manson next week. With Commissioner Falconer and the Liquor Board before him he was working this afternoon completing the schedule.

Reductions in whisky prices are to be made, but the forecasted schedule is a number of prices in the new schedule will be less than the Quebec scale of prices, even without taking into consideration the 20 cents a bottle extra which is charged there for "wrapping and packing."

Present indications are that in making the reductions the Government will be sacrificing $60,000 to $75,000 a month of around three-quarters of a million dollars a year.

All Liquor Board Inspectors let out in February have been re-engaged and others have been added via Jasper, as was announced today from Vancouver.

This is because of the war Attorney-General Manson is carrying on against the warehouses and bootleggers.

Stations which were watched on'y in the daylight are now watched day and night by relaying the men in three shifts.

Major Don B. Martyn, Deputy Minister of Industries for British Columbia, has returned from Port Angeles and Lake Crescent, where he was guest of officers at the United States fleet, which is now manoeuvring in the Straits.

Major Martyn was the representative of British Columbia at the formal dinner given by the citizens of Port Angeles to officers of the fleet at Lake Crescent.

As a result of arrangements made by James Falconer, commissioner of the Liquor Control Board, the pulp and paper company at Ocean Falls is now building a new store for the liquor vendors, a shop which is to be established there. Total cost of the building under arrangements made by Mr. Falconer will be borne by the company.

British Columbia will appeal to the Privy Council of Canada against the meagreness of the reduction in freight rates granted by the Board of Railway Commissioners, the Premier and his Ministers have decided.

The reduction granted was 50 per cent, of the current rates. The Province has been paying above the rates of the prairies. It is not considered enough after the big put up at Ottawa by G. G. McGeer, Premier of the Province. Mr. McGeer will carry on the appeal.

Sidney is to have its liquor store after all. It will be opened next week in the quarters of the Social Club on Beacon Avenue.

Commissioner Falconer of the Liquor Board has appointed Frank E. W. Smith, a war veteran and native son of Victoria, as vendor. Smith has been living at Deep Cove for some time.

PREMIER WINS ANOTHER FIGHT

Premier Oliver to-day won his fight to have Lucerne, which is in the Province, established as the divisional point of the Canadian National Railways instead of Jasper, which is just over in the Alberta boundary.

Original plans of the Canadian National when the two lines were consolidated resulted, in part of the tracks which paralleled each other in the northern part of the Province being abandoned so that both the G. T. P. and the C. N. R. use the same track over a certain district.

In connection with this change it was proposed to consolidate the divisional points and the round houses at Jasper. British Columbia in the North protested against this, and Premier Oliver immediately started a big fight, and has now had the consolidated divisional point located in this Province.

B.C. LIQUOR PRICES BEING KNIFE TO-DAY; $750,000 PROFITS TO BE SACRIFICED; WAR ON BOOTLEGGERS; CROSS AFTER BOWSER

A Few Letters Selected From Thousands

General Delivery, Rock Island, Ill., U.S.A.

July 14, 1922.

Dear Sir,—I was astounded to see in my home paper, Vancouver Daily World, that the Chiropractor, who is doing so much good, is facing a sentence of from thirty to ninety days. Although I number many medical men amongst my best friends, as I have been shown nothing but kindness during the number of years I was in their care, I am compelled to admit I received no benefit till I met Dr. Walter Sturdy, who gave me so much relief from a life-long disordered digestion that in three or four weeks' time my appearance so improved that some of my friends who had not seen me for months hardly recognized me. I can not give away confidence, but I am in a position to know definitely why medical men are persecuting Chiropractors. If the latter were doing no good, the former could afford to ignore them. The Vancouver medical men are actuated by the same motives as their confederates in the U.S.A., where they had enough to do with a mischievous justice in an English-speaking country. The people, however, are more awake to the fact that they have no liberty or freedom in the choice of means of healing, and that the medical art of healing has been monopolized by class legislation. British love of fair play is known throughout the world. As a Canadian, I almost blush to give my questioners the latest news of the treatment of Chiropractors in my home town. It is absurd to construe a Chiropractor's method of procedure as coming within the province of medicine, in which he has little or no faith. Why try and force examinations on Chiropractors in subjects which are outside their province? If a Chiropractor is inefficient, he will get few or no patients, and the M.D.s will run no risk of infringements of their monopoly.

Yours truly,
William F. E. Durant.

Dear Sir,—Three years ago my eyes commenced to give me a great deal of trouble and I was gradually losing my sight. I attended several doctors in this city and was treated in every way known to medicine. In addition to this, I was told that my case was almost hopeless and I received over a hundred wicking injections of serum in my arm and was relieved of considerable money. After a year's treatment, I was forced to go east for a rest—being put on the train almost blind. My visit to the U.S.A. was a Chiropractor and, after taking daily adjustments for one month, was able to come home without glasses. Since then, I have been taking adjustments and am now able to knit and read. While an absolute cure in my advanced case is not guaranteed, surely this progress is encouraging enough for anyone, and I hope that anyone reading this letter will see what good is being done by the Chiropractors, who have my heartiest thanks. Hoping that you will give this letter space in your paper, I remain,
Yours truly,
Mrs. John Bryce.

Sir,—Will you kindly publish the following, which I consider to be to the public interest.
My little girl, aged ten years, was treated by a Chiropractor for enlarged tonsils, and, after each treatment, we noticed a marked improvement in her health. Now, through his treatment, her health is better than ever before, and she has not been troubled further with that complaint. I also wish to state before the fact that my little girl to a Chiropractor I was notified by the school doctor and nurse several times. It would be necessary to have her tonsils removed. I further wish to state that I have suffered with a weak heart since having influenza, and have taken treatment from a doctor without any result. I have now been going to a Chiropractor for the past few months and find that my health is greatly improved under his treatment. From my own personal experience I feel that the Chiropractor on the part of the authorities to in any way curb the activity of the Chiropractors. Trusting that you will give this space in your valuable paper, as I believe in justice.

Yours truly,
Mrs. L. W.

Dear Sirs,—I was sorry to note the article in the papers, regarding the persecution of Chiropractors. Considering we're supposed to be living in a free country, to say the least, the proceedings are disgraceful, and backed by a few medical men, if men they might call themselves. What are the head men of our city doing? Evidently playing into the hands of the Chiropractors, who are hundreds of people going to die, because medical men say Chiropractors can't practice? As a rule, I think that Chiropractors take cases that the medical men have done all they can for. They why not let the Chiropractor have a look-in, if he can do them good? Or even relieve their sufferings. I'm prone to say I had one of Vancouver's honest medical men, who suggested Chiropractors, after he had done all he could for me himself and took his fee. Then, he has been under the care of a Chiropractor for some time, and have been greatly benefited by Chiropractic adjustments; and although I've been sick some years, am expecting before long to be as fit as most. You can imagine how hard it is to find words to express my gratitude to these doctors who have taken so much pains with my case. But I feel, and must tell others, the good I have received, and I would like to see the will insist on seeing justice done to Chiropractors. Trusting you will find space in your valuable paper for this letter, I am, yours truly,
Mrs. A. H. Austin.

Written by disinterested persons who have been benefited by Chiropractic Treatment, and who believe "the Sick Have the Right to Get Well."

THE purpose of Law is to safeguard the Public. The function of Legislators is to enact Laws which will effectively accomplish this. The members of our Legislature are human beings, therefore they make mistakes. Misrepresentation, or undue pressure, brought to bear upon the Legislature, often makes it difficult for him to cast his vote as directed by the true sentiment of the Public who choose him to enact their laws. The result is the passage of unjust and harmful statutes. An analysis of our present medical legislation of British Columbia indicates that our Legislators were influenced by the Medical Association of this province. It is at once evident that this particular Act—the persecution of Chiropractors—as instigated by the medical men, was inspired in their own self interests, and not in the interest of the Public.

Attorney-General Manson Says Medical Men Are Responsible

This supposition becomes a firm conviction when the Attorney-General of the province is quoted in a Victoria paper as saying: "That the B.C. medical men are responsible for the persecution and not the Government." This news despatch goes on to say that the Attorney-General is being deluged with letters from disinterested persons protesting against the persecution. It would appear that the people of British Columbia are awakening to the fact that the British Columbia medical men are attempting to coerce citizens of this province to get well by means of drugs or not at all. A little investigation and a little knowledge of the situation will convince ALL fair-minded people of British Columbia that the medical men should be halted in their attempt to create a monopoly for their particular profession in this province. To crystallize action we submit a resolution of protest below for the signature of every fair-minded man and woman.

Dear Sir,—The following from a Washington, D.C., publication may interest the officials of B.C. concerning a Druggists Bill:

HOSPITALS GIVING UP
THE USE OF DRUGS

Significant Reference Made at a Conference of American
Hospital Association

Washington, D.C.—Striking illustration of the rapid decline in the use of drugs in the various hospitals of the country was features of the Eleventh Annual Conference of the American Hospital Association here. They were shown in the reports presented by Dr. R. R. Ross, Sup't. of the Buffalo General Hospital. "It is difficult to predict what the future of medicine in hospitals is going to be," said Dr. Ross. "Undoubtedly, drugs will be continued to be used, but other agencies still unknown to us will have a place. There, perhaps, will be doctors to preach and pray, doctors to prescribe methods for the use of mind; specialists on fresh air and exercise; and doctors to prescribe drugs and to operate. These statements may, perhaps, seem to be in flight vein, yet hospitals are beginning to adapt themselves to such conditions."

Yours truly,
Prof. S. J. F. Stranach.

PROSECUTION OF CHIRO-
PRACTORS

Editor World, City.

Your paper, on Dominion Day, celebrated a good movement in the article under the above heading, and one in which every right-thinking man and woman will uphold you, especially those who have enjoyed a new tenure of life from this treatment, after medical men themselves have failed to treat successfully. If the medical men can not cure in every case, surely it is a selfish and unmanly thing not to allow people in a so-called free country to seek treatment as they best think fit. I hope that many will rise and protect against this persecution. A well-wisher for the Chiropractors.

MAIL THIS RESOLUTION TO-DAY

B. C. ASSOCIATION OF CHIROPRACTORS
1014 Standard Bank Building
Vancouver, Canada.

I, the undersigned, respectfully urge that the persecution of Chiropractors in the Province of British Columbia cease forthwith. And that the present disabilities under the Medical Act, as applied to Chiropractors, shall be removed at the next Session of the Legislature. And I respectfully urge that the Legislature establish Educational and Legal requirements that will compel every Chiropractor-practitioner to be thoroughly trained and thoroughly competent, as judged by a Board of Examiners of practicing Chiropractors. It being understood that it is not the purpose of the legislation to coerce any citizen to get well by Chiropractic or medical means; or by any other means, but to always keep in mind that it is the undeniable privilege of the sick to get well by any means whatsoever.

ELECTION SOON IN NEW ZEALAND

Government Must Go to Country; To Vote on Liquor

The Country's Dairy Industry Forges Ahead

(Times Correspondence)

Wellington, N. Z., Aug. 4.—Within a few months the New Zealand Reform Government under the leadership of W. P. Massey must go to the country. It is already making preparations, and will stand chiefly on its financial record and its ability in tiding the country over the remains of the slump.

Against it are the reorganized Liberal Party, which will have a working agreement with the Labor Party not to split votes by three-cornered contests, and the Farmers' Party, which as yet has no representation in the House. From present indications the Farmers' Party is not unlikely to hold the balance of power as between Government and Opposition.

The Labor Party, which consists of Socialists of a mild type, expects to gain many seats. In a by-election just held in Dunedin it won a seat by a handsome majority. The general anti-Government feeling of the drunkenness and making the saloons cater better for the travelling public. There is hardly a first-class hotel in the Dominion to-day—certainly nothing to compare with the Canadian hotels.

To Vote on Liquor. Prohibition will be an election issue at the general election this year in New Zealand. If it fails to carry the Government will bring in a licensing reform bill with a view to curtailing drunkenness and making the saloons cater better for the travelling public. There is hardly a first-class hotel in the Dominion to-day—certainly nothing to compare with the Canadian hotels.

Last election there were three issues. The result was: Continuance of the present system, 241,251; state purchase, 22,261; prohibition, 270,259. Prohibition was thus only 3,252 votes short of the absolute majority required. The prohibition party expects to make up this leeway in December when the vote is taken.

Dairy Products. New Zealand is rapidly becoming the dairy farm of the British Empire, as Canada is the granary.

In a conversation Mr. Massey, the Prime Minister, pointed out that the increase in the value of the products of the dairying industry in the Dominion in the last four years amounted to £2,000,000. These figures chiefly reflected the increase in the price of butter and cheese, owing to bad packing and grading. New Zealand lost headway in the British market, but the war rapidly making up the loss row through the superiority of her product. Only in the beef trade was the Dominion behindhand, he said, and that was largely due to Argentine competition.

It was pointed out to Mr. Massey that Canada also suffered from this competition, and he said that the progress made in Patagonia in recent years was marvellous. He was firmly convinced that in a few years Argentina would be the most formidable competitor in the beef trade that the Dominions of the Empire would have to face.

Taught by the success of rural banks in Canada, New Zealand plans to introduce them for the benefit of her agriculturists. The speech at the opening of the parliament this session outlined proposals for such banks intended primarily for the benefit of small farmers and operated by means of a co-operative credit system. It is understood that they will follow the Canadian model with some modifications on the lines of the rural banks of New South Wales which have proved a great success to the agricultural community.

Imports From Britain.

New Zealand imports more British goods per capita than any other Dominion. Figures issued by the Dominion Government show that while Canada buys to the extent of £2 4 shillings 4 pence per head each year, and South Africa to the extent of £4 5 shillings 11 pence, New Zealand buys to the extent of £12 4 shillings 5 pence from the Mother Country.

Commenting on these figures, the Prime Minister, Mr. Massey, said the people in New Zealand felt glad that they gave so material a preference to the Mother Country in their trade. The recent enlargement in the scope of import duties preference as included in the new Dominion tariff would, he felt sure, further increase New Zealand's trade with the Motherland.

Seven Lost Lives.

When two workmen were overcome by oil fumes in a tunnel at the Mangahae power plant, which is being installed to supply Wellington with electricity, the other men went in one by one to rescue them. All were taken out dead.

Repairs were needed to the air compressor plant during an off-shift. The foreman and another man went in to make the necessary adjustments. One man remained outside in the tunnel working the compressor. After a time he became anxious and went to look for the two men inside. Then he found the tunnel full of oil fumes and gave the alarm. Other workmen then tried a rescue. One by one they disappeared into the fatal tunnel and did not come back. Finally fresh air was pumped in, and the bodies of the seven recovered.

The origin of the accident has been traced to defective machinery, which allowed the oil fumes to escape.

GREAT CUT IN SASKATCHEWAN

Harvesting Has Started in South; Provincial Government Report

Regina, Aug. 5.—With wheat cutting already under way in the South Central district and harvesting to become general within the next two weeks, crop reports issued to-day by the Bureau of Statistics of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture indicate that a good yield will be threshed in the major portion of the Southern part of the province.

Correspondents in the Sceptre and Maple Creek districts report serious need of rain, while at the latter point the crop of oats is recorded as a failure. Many districts in the north part of the province will harvest uneven crops, sandy fields suffering from drought. Condition vary widely in the East Central district. At Verigin and Langenburg, good yields are expected, while at Shebo, lack of rain has resulted in the wheat ripening too fast.

It is expected he will give the remnants of the Liberal Party a great impetus towards unity. At present there is no Liberal Party, only a number of factions.

Prisoner Is Closely Watched

Steps to Prevent Suicide of San Francisco Murder Suspect

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—A "suicide watch" has been placed over Henry Wilkens, suspected of the murder of his wife, and the centre of a tragedy in which Walter Castor took three lives, including his own, by shooting Thursday in a brief pistol fight with police at the home of his mother, Mrs. Minnie Castor.

Although Wilkens, suspected of having caused the shooting, was in a state of semi-consciousness and collapse to-day, the police believe might have been Castor, apparently not greatly affected by Thursday's tragedy, the police deemed it necessary to establish the watch.

Castor, who was also charged with the murder of Mrs. Wilkens, was being sought throughout the country when information to the police led to his being trapped in his mother's home. He shot and killed Detective Sergeant Timothy J. Bailey and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert E. Castor, and seriously wounded Detective Ernest A. Gable. He then put a bullet into his own brain.

According to the police, Mrs. Minnie Castor was in a state of semi-consciousness and collapse to-day. She was an eyewitness to Thursday's tragedy, and although importuned by relatives and friends to leave the house, refused to do so.

Airman Saved Bathers' Lives

Seaside, Ore., Aug. 5.—Life preservers dropped from an aeroplane into the surf saved the lives of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Smith, of San Francisco, who were carrying one quarter of a mile from the shore by the tide while they were bathing yesterday.

Earl Gray, an aviator, saw the bathers both in danger, hurriedly placed two life preservers in his machine and flew out over the water. He threw one life preserver so close to Mr. Smith that it splashed water in his face. The other life preserver hit the water about forty feet from Mrs. Smith. Both bathers managed to keep themselves up with the life preservers.

Lifeguards brought the couple to shore, where they were resuscitated.

CHILD-SWALLOWED BOLT AND DIED

Superior, Wis., Aug. 5.—Joseph Alphonse de Block, 18 months old, died in a hospital yesterday afternoon after swallowing a stove bolt. The bolt had passed through the stomach into the intestines. The child was brought to the hospital after a long search, and the bolt removed, but the child failed to rally.

MARK GAINED

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The Bourse yesterday in the main was optimistic on the foreign situation. In consequence the mark showed visible improvement, closing sixty points above the post-Bourse quotation of 730 to the dollar.

The optimism was based largely on the assumption that the forthcoming conference between the Allied leaders in London would result in some definite settlement of the reparations problem.

U. S. WOOL MARKET.

Boston, Aug. 5.—The Commercial Bulletin today says that the wool market has been in evidence in the wool market this week which has been a fair degree of success, and this is giving the wool trade more confidence. The tariff outlook still is uncertain, but not sufficiently so to cause any price cutting, especially in view of the problem of replacements. A little buying and selling has taken place in the West on recent price levels.

OPPOSES LADY ASTOR

Plymouth, Eng., Aug. 5.—Dr. Baylew has been chosen unanimously as Independent Conservative candidate to oppose Lady Astor for the Sutton division seat in the House of Commons at the next general election.

When accepting the nomination, Dr. Baylew announced himself opposed to prohibition, saying it would only lead to "a dangerous increase in the use of alcohol."

A Word About the New Fall Styles For Women and Misses

It's a great occasion when the new Fall apparel starts arriving. That's what is happening now and what we want you to know about and to see if you please. These advance costumes are very exclusive ones that authentically portray the season's new style trend, its flare for the straight-line silhouette, for the bloused back, the panelled sides, the beaded front, the fur-trimmed coat and other originalities far too many to mention.

The New Suits

In suits the three-piece design is good. But scores of two-piece styles will be prominent. Fur and braid is much used for trimming for these types of new Fall costumes. The jackets vary in length and the suit skirts are longer.

The New Coats

The season's conform more or less to the straight silhouette, except that the prevalence of wrappy models tends to widen the figure at the waist. The collars are mostly on the choker order and are large and very important—and in most cases of fur.

The New Dresses

All sleeve lengths are represented in the new dresses. The styles shown are much longer, ranging from 5 to 7 inches from the ground, and in some cases the increased length is obtained by uneven hem lines. The low waist line continues to be strongly emphasized.

Separate Skirts

For sports wear incline to plaids, and more to be stitched down than the wrap-around effects. Eponge and novelty weaves are seen in the new separate skirts for Fall.

Fur Much Used as a Trimming

Furs used for trimming both suits and coats include fox, wolf, caracul, squirrel, beaver, mole and fisher. Materials are mostly on the border of duvety or velvety surfaced fabrics. Black is much used, also brown, taupe and dark blue.

INSPECTION INVITED

BELL FUNERAL IN NOVA SCOTIA

Body of Inventor of Telephone Laid to Rest

Baddeck, N. S., Aug. 5.—All the villagers of Baddeck trudged to the peak of Beinn Breagh mountain last evening and stood in reverence at sunset while the body of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell was laid to rest after a life of 75 years, in which he gave the world the telephone and other invaluable inventions.

Over his tomb, blasted from the rock that looks down on all of Eastern Nova Scotia and the beautiful Bras d'Or Lakes, the watch tower built years ago by the inventor. Below are the quiet woodland and serene lakes on whose waters Dr. Bell experimented with speed boats and fast water sleds.

There was a short service at the home, attended only by those who had been very close to Dr. Bell at work or play. When these were ended, workmen employed on the estate lifted their shoulders, the basket which had been built in Dr. Bell's workshop out of rugged pine, and carried to his coach, which led the cortege up to the very highest tip of the mountain.

There, his six-foot frame silhouetted against the twilight sky, stood the village parson, Rev. John Mackinnon, of the Greenwood Presbyterian Church, of Baddeck. Clustered about him on the slopes of the mountain were the Nova Scotians and a few who had come from the United States for the burial, one of them Dr. Bell's sister-in-law, a resident of Washington.

Passages Recited. A friend of the late inventor recited one of his favorites, Longfellow's "Psalm of Life," then the ninety-third Psalm, and finally the first stanzas of the requiem of Robert Louis Stevenson.

The sunset bore only one floral offering, that sent by the employees of the American Telephone Company. The others were laid to the tomb.

The last of the mourners to leave the grave was blind Hector McNeill, who worked with the inventor for more than thirty years.

Outlook Reported As Encouraging in Western and Eastern Canada

Winnipeg, Aug. 5.—(Canadian Press).—The Fall outlook for business in Canada may be considered satisfactory, according to the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association.

Toronto, Montreal and Quebec advise that wholesalers in most lines are generally active, especially in dry goods, women's and men's wear and hardware, and particularly the latter. Fine holiday retail conditions, merchants say. Colorful and festive one dollar offerings are expected to look up the coming of Fall conditions.

General conditions throughout the West hinge to a great deal on the crop outlook, which experts say was never better.

AN IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY.

If the Government of Sir Richard McBride had pledged the credit of the Province for the assistance of an iron and steel industry and other projects of that character instead of guaranteeing the bonds of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, our whole industrial outlook would have been much different from what it is and we would not now be staggering under the burden of a very serious railway problem. In associating itself with the Dominion and British Governments in assisting the establishment of an iron and steel undertaking on this Coast the present Government is endeavoring to make up some of the ground that has been lost, and it is hoped has taken a step which will open a new industrial era for this Province. Its action is conditional, of course, upon satisfactory assurances, following a thorough investigation, regarding the sources of raw materials, specifications, management, contracts and other information concerning the character of the company to be assisted, and the proposal must necessarily be embodied in a measure passed by the Legislature.

The establishment of an iron and steel industry in British Columbia has been discussed a long time. Fifteen years ago the Dominion Government sent an expert to Vancouver Island to conduct a survey of the iron ores of this locality and report upon the feasibility of developing them. His report was favorable as to raw materials but somewhat doubtful regarding the cost of production and market. Since then, however, due to the war and other developments, the cost of production of iron and steel elsewhere has been largely increased and the handicap against this Coast has been appreciably diminished in consequence, while the Orient has become a vast market for iron and steel products.

During the last decade there was considerable agitation for this enterprise, committees have been organized and delegations have pressed both Provincial and Dominion Governments for assistance in establishing one. The Provincial Legislature passed legislation offering a bounty for the production of pig iron, a policy which was in force at Ottawa from 1883 to 1910 and which helped very much to build up the iron and steel industry elsewhere in Canada, notably in Nova Scotia and at Lake Superior. The present proposal is the first definitely practical move for the accomplishment of the end in view. Sooner or later such an enterprise was certain to be started in British Columbia because the folly of permitting our neighbors to monopolize the great Oriental markets would have become apparent to everybody, but in the present instance the auspices are unusually favorable since the Province has for its associates in giving aid the Governments of both Canada and the United Kingdom.

TO-MORROW'S CEREMONY.

While the ceremony that is to take place at the Parliament Buildings to-morrow afternoon will be of particular interest to newspapermen, it is the desire of the British Columbia Institute of Journalists that the memory of those of its members who gave their lives for King and Country in the Great War shall be honored at the unveiling of the tablet upon which their names are engraved by as many of the general public as may care to attend. It is not necessary, to point out that the accommodation under the dome which fronts the main assembly hall is somewhat limited and will not permit as many as the Institute would have liked to welcome. For that reason it will be understood that if any considerable number of those who have a kindly feeling for the members of the Fourth Estate are not able to gain admittance to the ceremony limitation of space will alone be responsible.

For the benefit of the people of this city and Vancouver Island it may be said that the tablet which is to perpetuate the memory of the gallant members of the journalistic profession who fell in battle or died of wounds has been provided at the joint expense of the newspapers of this Province and the Institute of Journalists. It contains the names of fourteen men who served either with the Canadian Expeditionary Force or with the Imperial Army. Accompanying the more permanent memorial itself will be a scroll containing the names of more than fifty British Columbia newspapermen who served during the war and were spared to return to their profession. The tablet will be unveiled by the Lieutenant-Governor—himself a newspaperman and honorary president of the Institute.

PAYING A DEBT.

It is to the credit of the Dominion Government that a further sum of money has been allocated for the purpose of repatriating a fairly large number of Canadian ex-soldiers who took their discharge in London and have been unable to obtain employment or find the wherewithal to pay their passage back to this country. None of these men pondered over their course of action when the call to arms was sounded from one end of the Empire to the other; they got into uniform and took their part in the great struggle. They fought for Canada and their return to the land of their adoption never should have been delayed through the commission of a technical error that automatically ended this country's liability in this respect. Until all those who find themselves in the category referred to have been repatriated the Dominion's debt of honor will not have been paid.

CAN IT BE USED?

Our suggestions will not be required in respect of matters that the various ex-service men's organizations will desire to take up with Dr. Beland while he is in Victoria on his first visit to this city as Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. It can be taken for granted that they will have formulated a programme for his consideration that will occupy his attention for an hour or so. At the same time they may be permitted to remind the Minister that the Department of Naval Service is the owner of a collection of buildings at Esquimalt that at one time did duty as the naval hospital and latterly housed the patients that were under the jurisdiction of J. Unit until its demobilization. For months past this valuable property has been tenanted only by a caretaker.

It is well known that some parts of these premises are somewhat antiquated and may not conform to modern hospital requirements; it is equally true that considerable additions were made to the original property in order to accommodate service patients during and after the war. Indeed the wards were occupied by a number of shell-shock cases until blasting operations in connection with the drydock at Skinner's Cove obliged their removal to more tranquil surroundings. And it may well be that when the project becomes a thriving utility its activities would detract considerably from the value of the present buildings as a curative establishment of any kind. At the same time we are convinced that the equipment which is not improving itself by lack of use could be converted into an institution in which disabled veterans might be kept under supervision and a species of sheltered employment engaged in.

While Dr. Beland is in Victoria he will have an opportunity of seeing what is being done for the disabled man at the Red Cross workshop. From that one example of the manner in which the veteran who cannot hope to do battle in the competitive labor market may regain some measure of independence and become a producing member of society the Minister will doubtless appreciate the fact that the buildings at Esquimalt might be utilized to advantage when the din of blasting shall have ceased on the nearby undertaking. It would seem reasonable to assume that some co-operative arrangement might be entered into between the Province and the Dominion by which this property could be converted into a sheltered area for civilian and ex-service patients suffering from tuberculosis in its arrested stage.

No finer locality could be chosen for this kind of enterprise. It might well be that discharged cases from Tranquille, those cases which require supervision and careful living if the malady is to be kept in subjection, could be accommodated at Esquimalt and provided with a means of earning a livelihood. In this connection the co-operation of the local branch of the Red Cross could be depended upon. Its activities have developed so rapidly and have proved such a boon to the limited number for whom provision could be made that the additional facilities would assuredly be welcomed. Financing very naturally would have to be undertaken either by the Dominion Government or by a co-operative arrangement with the Province.

We believe that this is a matter which merits the consideration of Dr. Beland. His sympathy for the disabled veteran under all headings is well known and we are of the opinion that if the present buildings and the site could be utilized in some such manner as that which we have suggested it would be possible to improve the lot of many who are either suffering under the handicap of lost limbs or lungs that are constantly the cause of ominous warnings.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Some of the electors in South Hackney say that if Mr. Bottomley were to run for Parliament again they would give him their votes. It is a fairly safe bet that the elector in that constituency who may have suffered through the crash of the Victory Bond Club would have quite a different use for the franchise.

It is strange to observe that the demonstrations against war which took place in many parts of the English-speaking world a few days ago barely succeeded in hindering public discussion of other matters of far less importance for more than a passing moment. When will the people of civilized countries realize that they are merely the pawns in the international game of politics. War makes them suffer and pay; yet they and they alone possess the power to escape the agony and the payment.

Has it ever occurred to those people who object so much to the Anglo-Russian trade agreement that many of them and hundreds of thousands of others are caught as easily as possible by the eloquence of a nicely displayed advertisement about an oil well a few hundreds of miles away? They cannot understand why any Government should desire to do business with the Soviet after all the chaos it has wrought throughout so vast a country as Russia. The fact that one hundred and fifty millions of people cannot be left out of the world's economic reckoning indefinitely never occurs to them.

WATERING GARDENS

To the Editor—I have answered these questions so often lately that I think they must be of public interest. Watering, as commonly understood, with a hose from a pressure system, should in our climate, be done early in the day, never in the evening or at night; and of the many contrivances used to distribute water, that which most nearly approaches natural rainfall is best. I prefer the contrivance that distributes the water by means of a revolving shell inside a heart-shaped frame. It is called the "Bury." I think. Before using however, have it drilled with a 3-16 drill to allow the water free exit, and of importance, this drilling will double the life of your hose.

Distribute the water on to the soil under the foliage or elevate the contrivance enough to allow the drops to fall on the upper surface of the leaves as rain would. It will take one-half to one hour to saturate the soil. Twice weekly in dry and once in ordinary weather is sufficient, stir the surface next day.

Spraying water over the foliage, as is so often done, is not only wasting time and devoid of practical results, but is positively injurious, and cause of most of our fungoid troubles, especially with roses. Roses require no water whatever on their foliage, a limited quantity at the roots especially after midsummer, and positively no manure or nitrogenous fertilizers after this time of year.

Eight insect pests with insecticides, not with a damaging stream of water. Applied with a spray pump in the usual way, this formula will be found effective for insect pests.

Black Leaf 40% nicotine, quarter-can; whale oil or soft soap, half-can; lead arsenate, quarter-ounce; water, two gallons. Keep sealed when not in use. Spray each week or two. Prevention is better than cure.

WORLD PEACE.

To the Editor:—Kindly allow me to draw the attention of Christians of all denominations to the important conference looking toward world peace which will be inaugurated on Sunday, August 6, at Copenhagen. This conference will be held under the auspices of the "World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship Through the Churches," and will no doubt eventually prove to be of historic interest. About one hundred and twenty delegates and twenty-five nations, including the United States of America, and all the leading nations of Europe, and possibly also Japan will be represented. The importance of this conference can hardly be exaggerated.

First: It is beyond doubt the greatest effort in the world to-day to rally the organized forces of Christianity to the task of promoting International Friendship and peace, and to help bring about lasting world peace.

Second: The delegates will, either directly or indirectly, represent the leading Christian denominations in the world: the Roman Catholic Church appears not to be on the list.

Third: The subjects to be discussed are as follows: (1) The conditions of the religious minorities in Central and Eastern Europe; (2) Disarmament; and (3) The duty of the church with regard to reconciliation and reconstruction.

The ideals of the conference are of a purely Christian character and the discussions of the foregoing three subjects will be governed by the conviction that the application of the Christian ethic can alone solve the national and international problems confronting the world. It is in the spirit of prayer that the conference will go forward to its work and in view of this fact; and also in view of the tremendous responsibility resting

PRESBYTERIANISM AND STOO PIGEONS

To the Editor:—On my maternal side I belong to the old orthodox Scotch Presbyterian sect and was brought up on porridge and Presbyterianism. As soon as I learned to read, the "Shorter Catechism" was presented to me with instructions to memorize from start to finish. Later I digested the Westminster Confession of Faith, and the doctrines of the Presbyterian Church were instilled into me by my environment as I had three uncles who were Presbyterian divines. I was familiar with the legal battle which divided the Church in Scotland and with the trouble that ensued when the organ was introduced in the Church in Canada. In fact, for nearly half a century I have taken great interest in and watched the growth and development of my beloved Church. Therefore, having some considerable knowledge in Presbyterian Church affairs, I feel that it is my duty to take issue with Mayor Marchant, chairman of the Police Commission, when he "alams" my church by alleging, if press reports are correct, that Marie Macauley, the principal witness in the "Bury" case, was a Presbyterian mission worker. While I have not attended the General Assembly of the Church in recent years, still I am satisfied and convinced that the authorities in charge of the missionary work have not degenerated and authorized anyone to act as a stool pigeon. When Marie Macauley took a girl of twenty-one to a questionable rooming house with the result that the proprietress was charged with selling liquor and also of procuring, then I say that Marie Macauley was the greater offender of the two, if any offense was committed, as she was an accessory before the fact and conspired to have offenses committed.

This is not in accordance with my teachings in the Presbyterian creed, and I think that the local authorities of the church should investigate the allegation made by Mayor Marchant and place it on record that Marie Macauley is not the accredited missionary of our church, and if she is, that she grossly violated the trust reposed in her.

I understand the true Christian spirit is to redeem the fallen and not to conspire and induce crime to be committed for the sole purpose of prosecuting or persecuting some unfortunate individual.

A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor:—I have observed many things since I came to Victoria a few months ago, but I have not observed the notice "Silence" hung in a prominent place in the otherwise perfect Connaught Reading Room, so that everyone might see it on entering. This observation is not necessary for the convenience of people who are in their class, but for some of the unknown people who are below theirs.

VIATCH.

CHIROPRACTORS.

To the Editor:—I desire to register my protest against any attempt to forcibly prevent qualified chiropractors practicing their healing methods in British Columbia. No possible injury can result from their mode of treatment; "nervous" charges are moderate, and the increasing number of persons who daily avail their turn for adjustments is a positive evidence that they are producing satisfactory results.

A child of mine, five years of age, had both eyes badly turned inward. Dr. Collier has almost completely rectified this by spinal adjustments, with every prospect of complete and permanent results, as no part has been interfered with by operation or drugs. Some years ago I was operated on by a very reputable surgeon of this city for a similar affliction, which resulted in a temporary improvement, but has very largely returned.

By an expensive operation, involving pain and serious risk the regular doctor made a temporary cure, while the chiropractor at small cost, no pain or risk has made almost a perfect cure.

The chiropractors must have the opportunity to work out their own destiny independent of the medical association.

BEER CLUBS STILL RUN WIDE OPEN

Vancouver, Aug. 5.—"In reference to the beer question, are the clubs and hotels still running openly?" asked Mayor Tisdall at the meeting of the Police Commission.

"Yes, perfectly open," replied Chief James Anderson.

The Chief said there are now 51 blind beggars, bootleggers and clubs before the courts.

He declared that the difficulty is the necessity of getting search warrants

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, August 5, 1897

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—The news that Hawaii has virtually excluded Chinese is confirmed by Honolulu advices brought by the Australia. When the annexation proposition was made to the United States one of the principal clauses was the Chinese immigration should cease.

London, July 21.—The Bixley meet is already drawing to a close, as the shooting in the first stage of the Queen's prize was finished yesterday.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—The papers in the Wood murder case were received yesterday from British Columbia. Samuel F. Wood murdered a blacksmith in the Kootenay country and was sentenced by Judge Walkem to be hanged on August 11. The executive have therefore only six days to look into the case but if there is no petition for clemency the case will be dealt with by the department and not brought before the cabinet.

Record speed was made by the tug Lorne to-day when she towed the barquentine J. N. Griffiths from Port Townsend in the record-breaking time of three hours which includes the time taken to secure hawser and drop anchor.

and that the magistrate can impose a fine, only in cases of beer selling. "There are no second offenders," the Chief said. "When a man is once caught selling beer, they don't employ him as a bartender any longer."

"There are a number of so-called returned soldiers' clubs in the city in which the returned soldiers have no say in the management, but the people who run the place get some poor returned man who is hard up and employ him as a bartender."

"Can't we close up these places under our new club by-law?" asked Ald. Crane.

"Only three clubs have taken out licenses, the three standard clubs," stated the Mayor. "The others stated that they would give no privileges for the license fee as they could not sell liquor."

"There are fifty cases now before the court," said the Chief, "but we are postponing the hearings because of the application before the City Council for a new by-law by altering their premises. They want to be sure that if they spend about $1,000 fixing up the premises that they will not be turned down on their application for a license."

CAPITOL

Lila Lee, a beautiful Paramount leading woman, is Wallace Reid's principal support in his new Paramount picture, "The Dictator," which is on view at the Capitol Theatre. She is seen as the daughter of a Latin-American revolutionist and her role is one of exceptional charm. The cast generally is high grade.

DOMINION

One hears much about the combination of star, story, and director, but you will never realize how important this combination is until you see "The Trap," the Universal-Jewel production which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Lon Chaney is magnificent in portrayal of the leading role in this powerful story of the northwestern Canada. The direction of Robert Thornby has made it a picture of beauty and thrills.

ROYAL VICTORIA

From the days when Nazimova first thrilled the New York public by her portrayal of Henrik Ibsen's characters, the picture world has awaited the day when this distinguished Russian star would present an Ibsen play on the screen. Now it has come to pass, and will be shown for the first time to-day at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Nazimova will be seen as Nora in the well-known Ibsen classic, "A Doll's House," her first independent production for United Artists.

It is a picture with a human appeal, inasmuch as it deals with a topic of universal discussion, that of feminism, and when first produced on the stage aroused a world wide controversy.

The play defends a married woman's right to preserve her own individuality. The old conservative world raised their hands in horror at this idea, for it represented or rather conveyed but one thought to them, namely, the crumbling of marriage as an institution.

Nazimova's excellent interpretation of Nora, the disillusioned little wife, in her screen version of this classic, continues her triumphant march in the hearts of the lovers of Ibsen, in the role she made famous on the speaking stage.

Tom never thought to acquire any higher rank than this as a military man until the making of his latest Fox production, "The Rough Diamond," in which he is playing a new sort of role. In this story, after many merry and thrilling mix-ups (no pun intended), Tom goes to a Latin-American republic and becomes a generalissimo in the army of the counter-revolutionary forces.

RE-ENGAGEMENT OF "BEHOLD MY WIFE"

Next week's attraction at the Dominion Theatre will be of special interest to lovers of the highest class of motion picture art. A short time ago in California, at a judging contest, as to the respective entertainment, moral lesson, and humor derived from motion pictures shown throughout the 1920 season, "Behold My Wife!" George Melford's production from Sir Gilbert Parker's famous novel "The Translation of a Savage," was acclaimed winner, and was declared to be all that a really fine picture should be. Sir Gilbert This don't the observer called "The Translation of a Savage." George Melford has taken this same story and, with a modernization that is remarkable in regard to the world of the finished cinema version called "Behold My Wife!" His cast was carefully selected, as witness the names of bewitching Mabel Julienne Scott, Milton Sills, and Elliot Dexter, Winter Hall and a score of other Paramount stars. It would be folly to attempt a graphic review of the story, because motion pictures, as a rule, must be given personal inspection to acquire the proper opinion. This don't the observer called "Behold My Wife!" which was attested to by the enormous ovation accorded it when it played at the Dominion Theatre. Prices will prevail for this splendid attraction.

On A Hot Summer Day

On a Summer afternoon there is nothing more appropriate and certainly nothing more delicious than a cool refreshing drink of SALADA "ICED" Tea. The flavor is so distinctive and so appealing that "ICED" SALADA has become a most popular Summer drink on all occasions. It is wonderfully refreshing. Ask for it to-day.

POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT IS PROVIDED AT GORGE

The management of the Gorge has shown good judgment in engaging the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish band for a series of concerts at this popular resort. Saturday and Sunday evenings the public in ever-increasing numbers is taking advantage of these splendid concerts. To-night the band will play at the bandstand from nine to ten, after which it will furnish music dancing at the pavilion free. To-morrow night there will be a concert from eight to ten and community singing. Popular and well-known songs have been selected for the community sing, which the band will accompany. The programme for Sunday night is as follows:

March—"Gladitorial Farewell"
Selection—"Half-Past Eight"
Valse—"Casino Tante"
Ballet Music from "William Tell"
Southern Descriptive—"Down South"
Intermission
March—"Right of Way"
Overture—"Bohemian Girl"
Fox Trot—"Top Hole"
March—"Colonel Bogey"
God Save the King.

HER UNTHIRTY SPOUSE

Broker's Wife—I think it's awfully foolish of you to pay so much for a seat in the stock exchange. Every time I drop in to see you I find you either standing up or walking about.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The Summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mother during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers, by mail at 15 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A CHEAP TRIP

Across the continent on $55 worth of gas, $1.25 in parts, three punctures and a blow-out, is the record of a Toronto holiday-maker and his wife.

"I went to the great open spaces, back West where the air's pure and clear and I dwell there amongst honest faces; then one soon became mighty dear and I knew that my past must be hidden, though someday I feared, that its harm would brand me as something forbidden, but her hand kept its hold on my arm."

"And I knew that whatever would happen I'd go through Hell's fire for that girl, even though my heart strings were snapping and what brain that I had, was awfully. For I tell you, old pal, and you take it, it's something you'll do well to know, that your life is whatever you make it, and if you believe it's so."

IF WINTER COMES

BY A. S. M. HUTCHINSON
INSTALMENT NO. 25

He felt as he always remembered, once feeling as a boy when, after going to bed, he had come downstairs in his nightshirt and said to his father, "I say, father, I didn't tell the truth this morning. I had been smoking." He had never forgotten the enormous relief of that confession, nor the bliss of his father's, "That's all right, old man. That's fine. Don't cry, old chap." And he felt precisely that same enormous relief now.

She said, "Was that the reason? How awfully funny of you!" and she gave one of her sudden bursts of laughter.

He had a swift feeling that this was not quite the same as the reception of his confession by his father in that long-ago; but he thought immediately, "The things are quite different." Anyway, he thought, he felt immensely happy. And when she said, "I think we'll have some of the roses," he gallily replied, "Yes, rather. These roses!"

Fine! How easy to be on jolly terms!

And immediately it proved not so easy. He had got over the rocks of "niggling," he found himself in the shoals of exasperation.

She cut the first rose and held it to her nose, smelling it. "Lovely. Who was your letter man, Mark?"

He thought, "How on earth did she know?" He had forgotten it himself. "How ever did you know?"

From Lady Tybar. "They're back."

"I saw you from the window with the postman, Lady Tybar. What ever was she writing to you about?"

He somehow did not like this. Why "whatever?" And being watched was rather beastly; he remembered he had handed it to her.

She did what he called "flicked" the letter out of his envelope. He watched her read it and in his mind he could see as perfectly as she with her eyes, the odd, neat script; in his mind he read it with her, word by word.

Dear Marko—We're back. We've been from China to Peru—almost. Come up one day and be bored about it. How are you?

Nona.

His thought was, "Damn the letter!"

Mabel handed it back, without returning it to its envelope. She said, "No, it's not formal."

She snipped three roses with astonishing swiftness—snap, snap, snap.

Sabre sought about in his mind for something to say. There was nothing in his mind to say. He had an absurd vision of his two hands feeling about in the polished interior of a skull, or one might fumble for something in a large vase.

At the end of an enormous cavity of time he found some slight remark about blight on the rose trees—the absence of it this year—and ventured it. He had again an absurd vision of dropping it into an enormous bowl, and it seemed to tinkle feebly and forlornly, as a pea would. "No blight this year, eh?"

"No; is there?" agreed Mabel—snip!

Nevertheless conversation arose from the forlorn pea and was maintained. They moved about the garden from flower bed to flower bed. In half an hour the shallow basket was beautified with fragrant blooms and Mabel thought she had enough.

"Well, that's that," said Sabre as they re-entered the morning room.

Low Jinks, her matchless training at the level of atrociously performed duties pat to the moment and without command, appeared with a tray of vases. Each vase was filled to precisely half its capacity with water. There were also a folded newspaper, a pair of small gilt scissors and a tawzer. Low Jinks spread the newspaper at one end of the table, arranged the vases in a semicircle upon it, and placed the gilt scissors precisely in alignment with the right-hand vase of the semicircle, and the tawzer (for the stalk ends) precisely scattered here and there throughout the island, but in no single instance did I feel aggrieved, or chagrined. On the contrary many a time I was agreeably astonished, and particularly above all there were unmistakable signs of careful preparation, in much that was accomplished. Many a time I found myself on familiar ground.

As an instance, an orchestra was playing the familiar and popular "Poet and Peasant Overture," "Tales of Hoffman," bits of "Faust" and "Carmen," and the lovely "Minuet in G" (Beethoven), as another I heard an astonishing lot of favorite classics, the "Romance in F" (Tchaikovsky), "Gayette and Musette" (Raff), "Bohemian Girl" (Baile), the "Three Dances from Nell Gwynn" (Edward German), "Scenes Poétiques" (Godard), and "Ballet Egyptian" (Lacoste). In all these was there displayed much individual style and abundant ability in execution and interpretation. In one place, on the very western shores of the island, I listened with pleasure to the delightfully piquant ballet music from "The Sleeping Beauty" (Tchaikovsky), to Schumann's immortal "Traumerei" and to an arrangement of the "Rigoletto" quartet.

A Band Contest.

I found also that at one of the towns there was taking place a band contest. Historic ground it is for band contests, which have been held there for many a year. There were no less than five bands entered in this competition which is very keen among lands and their followers. Bands were gathered there from Nanaimo, Combedland, Victoria, Vancouver and Ladysmith. These contests always draw immense crowds from all parts of the island, and it is especially during band contests that one notes the keenness of those assembled who follow their own individual and particular band throughout their competition.

Carried off the honors of the contest, and there was no mistaking the fact, since and as to the band, it was the Schumann's immortal "Traumerei" and to an arrangement of the "Rigoletto" quartet.

I found also that at one of the towns there was taking place a band contest. Historic ground it is for band contests, which have been held there for many a year. There were no less than five bands entered in this competition which is very keen among lands and their followers. Bands were gathered there from Nanaimo, Combedland, Victoria, Vancouver and Ladysmith. These contests always draw immense crowds from all parts of the island, and it is especially during band contests that one notes the keenness of those assembled who follow their own individual and particular band throughout their competition.

town I visited there was a brand band, and I was greatly struck upon enquiry at the large number of homes set aside for band practice during each week. The best class of music and difficult too, was included in many of their programmes.

I could not but feel to notice, too, that the numerous different plans there are many hundreds everywhere—were kept in tune, a point worthy of more than passing notice.

So that with all these why not be optimistic? And if one's interest, enthusiasm and precept can create and sustain encouragement to others in any branches of the arts, then why not give readily and ungrudgingly a portion of the brief time allotted to us here upon earth in the development of an "yone of the arts to which one has especial gifts."

Victoria and Island Association Holds Meeting

The Victoria and Vancouver Island Dog-Breeders' Association at their monthly meeting held this week displayed an enthusiastic interest of the dog game here. J. S. Hickford, the well-known breeder and fancier, presided over the organization, occupied the chair.

The energetic secretary, A. G. Carmichael, 3255 Tennyson Avenue, reported numerous inquiries for different breeds of dogs and in some instances the association was able to give assistance to inquiries. It was decided that the near future to hold a social and later a puppy show. Several prominent breeders were elected members of the association. The secretary reported that he has a beautiful litter of bull pup from his fine bitch Nancy Lee Victoria by his celebrated dog Pacific Whiteascal. The treasurer's report shows that the association is in good financial standing, and it is intended in the near future to incorporate. The association is going slowly until its membership grows. The association went on record that it will give every assistance and support to the dog show to be held in September by the V.C.K.C. at the Willows.

One member reports that she is getting a registered smooth haired terrier dog, and it will be an acquisition to the Island. The Dog-Breeders' Association will at all times be pleased to assist intending purchasers or sellers of dogs and also will give any information to the new beginner in the dog fancy such as suitable breeds for town or country, housing, care of the dog, mating and so on. It was decided at the meeting that members disposing of dogs through the medium of the association shall pay five per cent. commission on all sales. Anyone outside the association will be charged ten per cent. of the purchase price for putting a deal through.

DEATH FOLLOWS A SIGHT FALL

Father of J. O. and D. O. Cameron Succumbs Here

Victorians will learn with deep regret of the death of William Newton Cameron, father of J. O. Cameron and D. O. Cameron, well-known lumbermen of this city. Mr. Cameron was in the city on his annual visit to his sons. He has been in the habit of coming to Victoria every summer for the past fifteen years. He was 81 years of age and was a native of Tennessee. Since 1889 he has made his home at Coleman, Texas, where the remains are being taken for burial by D. O. Cameron, who left for Coleman to-day.

Mr. Cameron's death was due to a fall on Monday, resulting in a rupture of a bowel. He was walking upstairs at the residence of D. O. Cameron when the accident occurred and he taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was operated on Monday night. Complications set in and yesterday afternoon at four o'clock he passed away.

He is survived by Mrs. Martha Capps Cameron, his widow; J. O. and D. O. Cameron, of Victoria, and a daughter, Mrs. Frank L. Snodgrass, of Coleman, Texas. Mrs. Snodgrass was visiting at Long Beach and on being notified of the accident she started for Victoria. She will meet D. O. Cameron in Seattle to-day and will accompany the remains to the burial place.

Until 1914 the late Mr. Cameron was engaged in the banking business in Tennessee and Texas and retired in that year. His first wife, who was the mother of the Cameron brothers, died in 1913 in Texas, and strangely enough her death was due to exactly the same cause as that by which the father lost his life, her death being due to a fall in which she broke her hip.

Mr. Cameron was a man of affable disposition and he made many friends in Victoria during his annual summer residence here. The sympathy of their many friends has been extended to J. O. and D. O. Cameron in their bereavement.

PRINCESS THEATRE WILL RE-OPEN AS "THE PLAYHOUSE"

Reginald Hincks and Local Stars Head New Theatrical Venture

The Princess Theatre, for so long the home of stock companies is to be re-opened with eclat on Wednesday, August 9, as "The Playhouse." The theatre will be under the management of these well-known names with the new venture should be criterion of its success.

Thoroughly renovated and decorated the auditorium has undergone a metamorphosis since it was last open to the public. The entire floor has been covered with rubberette material, the walls have been painted in pale primrose and the proscenium decorated in black and orange with heavy curtains of brown velvet. The entrance, too, has been strikingly decorated, the entire renovations being specially designed and carried out with artistic effect by the art department of David Spencer, Ltd.

In such a setting it is inevitable that the best of fare must be produced to please the theatre-going public. When it is announced that Miss Eva Hart has been engaged as leading lady and that the very best of Victoria's talent will be engaged to fill the various parts, there is little more to be said. A novel feature of the introduction of a complete musical comedy or opera "potted" to run about an hour and a quarter and to comprise the second half of the bill.

For the opening performance on Wednesday the artists will include Miss Eva Hart, Miss Roberta Balm, Miss Phyllis Beck, Messrs. Ernie Petch, R. N. Hincks, Bob Webb, Herbert Kent and J. Allwood. The Playhouse will open every Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a Saturday matinee and there will be a complete change of bill every other week.

Seattle Blames

Manson Here for

Liquor Price Rise

Seattle, Aug. 5.—Price increases on Seattle's whisky market seemed imminent to-day when bootleggers received advice from British Columbia representatives that legislation has been framed to tighten restrictions covering the exportation of foreign liquor. This action, it was said, will increase the difficulties of smuggling booze into Puget Sound, thus precipitating limited supplies and price advances.

One step in this direction has already been taken through an order in the British Columbia executive council in Victoria—new regulations controlling the sale of liquor from licensed warehouses. This rule will make it possible to keep track of all liquor handled by licensed warehouses.

Added to this monkey-wrench in bootleg machinery is the new attitude of co-operation on the part of Canadian authorities under Attorney General Manson with federal prohibition enforcement officers on this side. Close check of all booze exports is now being kept and any indication of an American destination for whisky cargoes is quickly transmitted to Prohibition Director Roy C. Lyle.

Another result of tightened restrictions is the removal of several British Columbia liquor houses to free ports in the Panama Canal zone, where liquor stations have been established to supply the California assessed values of land and an increase of $24,777,541.72 in the assessed values of improvements. The reduction in the assessed value of land is a continuation of the process, which has been necessary for a number of years of reducing assessments in various parts of the different municipalities to bring them down from the inflated values which prevailed some years ago to a normal selling value. Since the year 1915 the assessed value of the land in the municipalities has been reduced from $48,540,635.77 to $33,789,774.58, while the assessed value of improvements has been increased from $196,346,206.83 to $221,418,811. The increase in the value of improvements, of course, represents a normal development of the lands, chiefly by way of building construction.

BUILDING VALUES UP LAND VALUES DOWN IN CITIES OF B. C.

In connection with the assessment figures it is shown that among the cities there are ten which still exempt improvements entirely from taxation, as compared with eighteen in the year 1915, and among the districts there are now fifteen which exempt improvements, as compared with twenty in 1915.

The schedule shows that the debenture liabilities at December 31, 1921, amounted to $97,495,953.82, an increase of $1,888,078.52 over the previous year. The situation in this respect is quite satisfactory. The year 1914 was the first year with respect to which complete and accurate figures were obtainable, and since that date the increase in debenture liability has been slightly over $9,000,000. In view of the fact that in the year 1912 alone debentures were issued by the municipalities of the Province in excess of $28,000,000, and in the year 1913 to the amount of approximately $22,000,000, the results of the years from 1914 to 1921 may be considered to have been satisfactory, although it must be pointed out that a continuation of the policy of these last years is necessary for some considerable time to come.

The amount of the arrears of taxes outstanding is $6,964,164.86, as compared with $8,432,966.57 at the close of 1920. This shows a substantial reduction of outstanding arrears, but at the same time the investments of the municipalities in lands purchased at tax sale have increased from $5,247,788.34 to $6,507,912.65.

St. Louis Teams Lead Cobb Hits Consistently

Ken Williams Leads Major League Home Run Clouters; Sisler's Average Suffers Through Absence From the Game.

New York, Aug. 5.—St. Louis teams to-day were leading both major league baseball races. The Cardinals, by taking their second straight from the Phillies, nine to seven, ascended to the top when the Giants split a double-header with Chicago.

The St. Louis Americans won a game of 25 hits, 15 of which were for extra bases, defeated the Athletics 9 to 4 and maintained their one game lead over the Yankees who beat Cleveland 7 to 5.

Slipped in the Ninth.

Two former Boston hurlers, Hugh McQuillan and John Scott, hurled for the Giants in the two games against the Cubs. McQuillan, hurled up by brilliant support for eight innings, became too generous in the ninth and the Cubs, with three runs, won 2 to 2. Scott held the Cubs to seven hits in the second game, winning 2 to 1.

Rube Adams, the "aged," allowed three hits in eight innings to Boston and the Pirates won three to nothing. Rain saved the game for Adams in the ninth after Powell had hit a homer and two men with a single and a double rested on second and third with two out. Then the game reverted to the eighth.

Heavy Hitting Affair.

Brooklyn lost a heavy hitting affair to the Reds 6-5. Cobb's Tigers, with Dause hurling well, defeated the Red Sox 2 to 0. It was Detroit's eighth straight victory. Washington won its third straight from the White Sox 3-2. Zachary allowing the Sox but five hits.

Consistent Type.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Ty Cobb, the Detroit pilot, continues to sock the ball with marked consistency in the American League, while George Sisler, the star of the St. Louis Browns, is kept out of the game because of illness. However, Sisler fared better than the Tiger leader during the last week as he made a gain of one point, by playing in three games. Cobb, on the other hand, suffered a loss of three points in his last six games, according to being averages released to-day, and which include games of Wednesday.

Cobb is topping the list with an average of .415, compared with .418 a week ago, while Sisler continues to be the runner-up with .405, a gain of one point over his mark of last week. The other two members of the "Big Four," although not in the .400 class, are tagging along behind the leading pair. Tris Speaker, manager of the Indians, being third with .364 and Harry Heilmann, of the Tigers, next with .357, each of whom has made rapid strides toward the top.

Williams Boosts Total.

Blue, of the Tigers took the honors of best runner for Sisler, by scoring ninety one times, and Ken Williams, Sisler's team mate, deprived George of the total base honors, by boosting his total to 236, which is eight better than Sisler's record. However, Sisler's mark of thirty-four stolen bases is far above that of any of his opponents.

Ken Williams gave the home-run hitters something to shoot at when he cracked out six homers in as many days and ran his string of home runs to 28, giving him the lead for the season among the major league home-run clouters, his closest rival being Roger Hornsby, of the St. Louis Cardinals, who held the honor for several weeks. Tillinghast, of the Athletics, has bagged 24 homers and Babe Ruth 18.

Roger Hornsby, star of the Cardinals, was deprived of some of his honors during the last week, with an average of .391. This, however, is a falling off of seven points from his mark of a week ago.

He bagged only one home run, and brought his string of four homers to 27. Hornsby, however, in addition to being the leading batter and home-run hitter in the league, has a good grip on the batting title with a mark of .380.

The Coast League.

The Seals went on a batting spree in the first two innings of the game with the Senators yesterday at San Francisco getting seven hits and scoring ten runs. The final score was 11 to 1. Shea was taken out in the second and Colwell, who replaced him, kept the opposition away from the plate in every other inning save the fourth, when San Francisco added one to the list. Rhyne, with a triple and two singles, and Kilduff with three singles, were the batting stars of the game while Kamm's hitting was a feature.

Eleven Inning Game.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 4.—(Coast)—Portland won an exciting eleven-inning game yesterday from Oakland, 6 to 5, when Wolfier tripled, Cox walked, High was hit by the pitcher and Brazil, pinch hitting for the first time since he was hurt three weeks ago, poked a grass burner between first and second.

Vernon took the third game of the series 7 to 4. May struck out ten men and received good support. Bodie knocked out a homer with two on bases.

Los Angeles, evened up with the series with a 4-2 victory yesterday, taking the fourth game, 8 to 2. The Angels took the lead in the fourth frame after a three-inning pitchers' battle. Hand tied the score for the Bees in the sixth with his 15th homer of the season, but another homer by Deal in the Angels' half of the same frame ruined Salt Lake's hope of victory.

On the gridiron he was noted as the originator of the "talking player" and some football reviewers credited him with having unconsciously some of Princeton's adversaries.

CRITICIZES "REP." TEAM.
To the Editor:—After reading the published averages of this date, I would like to ask through the medium of your paper, as a keen supporter of the batting averages of this city, why Gunter Gibson, of the Garrison cricket eleven, has been omitted from the so-called "rep." team to play Vancouver on August 6.

In the face of Gibson being top of the batting averages, sixth on the bowling list and in the opinion of all cricketers, without any doubt the finest fielder in the city to-day, what grounds have the selection committee for leaving him off.

Exception could well be taken to the presence of at least one in the team chosen, whose position in the averages would seem to exclude him from all possible chance of inclusion in a "rep." team.

Perhaps the selection committee was anxious to explain to the cricketering public why such a step was taken.

A wellwisher for good cricket.

Thousands Throng Gorge For International Gala

Victoria Hangs Up First Mark For Aggregate Cup; Many Big Events Are Saved For This Evening.

With crowds at the Curtis Point Clubhouse and also lining other vantage points at the Gorge, boats and canoes edging their way into good positions, the Pacific Northwest Gala opened the second day of the programme auspiciously this afternoon. A capable list of officials kept the ball rolling as merrily as a three-ring circus and it is safe to say that out of all the events on a very fine programme the high diving stunts had the spectators thrilled most.

Feeling Ran High.
Competitors from Seattle and Portland brought over with them a good company of enthusiastic supporters and from the vigorous rooting it was plain that partisan feeling ran high in the fight for the aggregate cup, especially between the two United States cities.

With consideration for the Saturday-afternoon workers, the officials saved some of the best events both from the diving board and over the course for this evening when a second session is billed to start at 7.30.

The meeting at Calgary assumed importance on Friday night when the entry of Paul Sharpies was received from Pennsylvania. This athlete will compete under the colors of the collegiate branch of the A.A.U. of the United States in the running broad jump and pole vault.

A. I. Miller, of Sussex, N.B., will compete in all the jumps, and competitors are expected from every large centre in the Dominion. Entries close first post on Monday, August 7.

Garrett, Victoria's only hope for representation in the challenge round of the men's singles tennis at the B. C. Verley, by beating Garrett in a scathing battle, secured a place in the challenge round and met Marshall Allen this afternoon for the fight for the B. C. amateur championship and a handsome cup which goes with it.

Marshall Allen was last year's winner of the singles and arrived here this morning to compete in the challenge round and defend his title.

A Vigorous Match.
Tiring himself out in a vigorous match with Gordon, Garrett was heavily handicapped before he even commenced the first set. MANY EXPECTED AT SEATTLE CONFERENCE

International Conference of Anglicans Will Attract Large Numbers

“We are now expecting to have about 2,000 men and boys,” writes Mr. Walter Macpherson, in charge of arrangements for the International Conference of Anglicans and Episcopalians to be held in Seattle from Wednesday, August 23, to Sunday, September 3. In addition to this large attendance of laymen and older boys from the United States and Western Canada, from fifty to sixty bishops are expected to be present, and parish clergymen, prominent in work among boys and young men, are registered from many parts of the continent. Mr. Macpherson and Douglas Stansbury, chairman for the convention of church boys and young men, have held a number of meetings this week in Vancouver, from which city a delegation of about 100 is expected.

PORT WELFARE WORK IN HONOLULU

Superintendent Is Coming to Seattle Convention

Charles F. Mant, Superintendent of Seamen's Institute, Honolulu, T. H., has just sailed to attend the Brotherhood of St. Andrew Convention at Seattle in August. He comes as a delegate from St. Andrew's Cathedral Chapter, Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. Mant have been working in the Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands for eight years. They will come to Vancouver, where they will stay for a few weeks to visit friends and assist the church in the recruiting of a big delegation to the Brotherhood Convention from British Columbia.

Mr. Mant is a business man of unusual ability and has given 23 years of his life to mission work. The last seventeen years having been spent in work in various ports among seamen throughout the world. Mr. Mant sends a very interesting story of the work done for the sailors in Honolulu as follows:

“The Sailors' Home and Seamen's Institute in the part of Honolulu is working for the welfare of seamen of all nationalities. The Institute is situated one block from the waterfront on Alaska Street. It is easily accessible to the men from most of the docks, although some of the newer wharves are now some distance away. The material equipment of the plant consists of a brick building in very good repair, on the ground floor of which there is a social hall, office, reading and writing rooms, pool room, dining room and kitchen with large cool verandas on two sides of the building. On the second floor there are bedroom and dormitory accommodations for 25 men and desk clerk and bath.

“Outside there is a large lawn shaded with beautiful palms, monkey pod and Kiawe trees. Occasionally outdoor concerts are held here during the visit of training ships, warships, or when a large number of men are in port.

Useful Channels.

“The work covers a great variety of phases, and leads into many interesting channels. The work is situated that ships touch here from practically all lands during the course of a year, some merely for bunkers, others for repairs, whilst many bring cargoes, and there are several passenger lines whose vessels are constantly calling and departing. To all these the superintendent and staff give their attention, and attempt to serve the crews in one way or another. If the ship is in port for only a few hours the Institute car will pull alongside with books and magazines for the men; if their stay is to be prolonged the sailors are invited to make the Institute their headquarters. They can play pool, write letters, and enjoy the free entertainments held from time to time. If they pay off in port there are the Institute rooms where accommodations can be obtained for a merely nominal charge. This is a great boon to the sailors, as prices in the town are generally high.

“These are some of the daily phases of the work, but there are others. Occasionally a ship wrecked crew is brought to the port, and these unfortunate men are cared for until arrangements are made to send them home.

“Sometimes shipping is slack, and work ashore difficult to obtain, so that there is a great deal of relief afforded the sailors. The Institute provides a great deal of relief during the year, and it is good to find that quite a number of men, when back at work, are glad to refund what has been spent on their behalf.

Savings Department.

“Then there is the Savings Department, which takes charge of men's money free of charge when they are in port, thus enabling many a man to leave with money that would otherwise have been squandered along the waterfront. During the year closing December 31, 1921, over $11,000 passed through our hands for the sailors. These meetings are invariably well attended, and seem greatly to appeal to the men, as well as giving a small amount of pleasure to the helpers. Following the luncheon a short service is held in the assembly hall by the superintendent.

“The work is supported by money raised in the town. During the past few years twelve local societies, of which the Seamen's Institute is one, have participated in the United Welfare Campaign, an organization which annually raises the funds needed to supply the budgets of these societies. In addition to this assistance the Institute receives a small income from its room rents, from collections taken aboard passenger ships, and donations from friends in the United States and elsewhere.

“The staff consists of the superintendent, Mr. Mant, who has been in the work for many years in various ports, an assistant, Robert Spencer, a janitor and a yardman. These four, with the enthusiastic help of a noble band of lady workers, look after the wants of the men of the sea in the port of Honolulu, the “Paradise of the Pacific,” the “Crossroads of the Pacific,” the place that enthralled Mark Twain, and yet where the sailor man has many waiting to lead him astray, but where he can find a true service to God and his fellow men.

BISHOP BRENT COMING

One of the most distinguished clergymen on the North American continent, the Right Rev. Charles H. Brent, present Bishop of Western New York, will visit Victoria on Sunday, August 13, to preach in Christ Church Cathedral and in St. John's Church on Sunday, August 27. The Bishop will also deliver a lecture on some phase of Anglo-American relations in the grounds of Bishop's Close, the present residence of Bishop Schofield, on Monday afternoon, August 28.

Bishop Brent is well known throughout the Anglican communion by his many published books and writings, and through his work as Bishop of the Philippine Islands and as Chaplain-General to the American forces in Europe during the war.

Among the published works of Bishop Brent are several courses of lectures delivered here, university students, including the Bishop Paddock lectures delivered in New York in 1904, entitled “Adventure for God,” and a series of Harvard University lectures on “Leadership” in 1907. Volumes of addresses, sermons and essays include the following: “The Mind of Christ Jesus on the Church of the Living God,” “The Splendor of the Human Body,” “The Consequences of the Cross,” “With God in the World,” “The Revelation of Discovery,” “Presence,” and “The Message of the Vision of the World.” A literary critic, “The Bishop shows his profound learning along various lines and at the same time his power to use it in plain and very practical ways.”

NEW THOUGHT TEMPLE

DISCUSSES AFFAIRS OF THE HEART IN CHURCH SERMON

Action Preacher Urges Revival of Betrothal Service

“There must be something more in an attachment than a pretty face,” declared Rev. H. E. Pelle, in the course of a special sermon to sweethearts, at All Saints' Church, South Acton. A large congregation, including many young couples, had assembled.

Mr. Pelle referred to the amount of interest that the service had aroused, and said he was ashamed that it should be considered an extraordinary thing for the church to deal specially with this subject. In this connection he remarked that he would welcome back the beautiful betrothal service which the church had in older days. “I cannot help thinking,” he said, “what a tremendous help it would be to feel that your courtship started in the Church of God.”

He urged sweethearts to take their love affairs seriously. “Real love,” he declared, “cannot be made from frivolous talk. It must have a serious foundation, and the young men and young women who try to make love by shrieking at each other in the streets are the despair of anyone who has my ideals of married life.”

Secret Courtship. Much unhappiness, he said, would be spared if courting couples discussed their attitude toward religion. A great many domestic squabbles arose over the question of churchgoing.

Turning to the parents, Mr. Pelle urged them to do all they could to prevent secret courtships of their sons and daughters. “Oh, the mad folly,” he said, “of the father or mother who says to his son or daughter, ‘Well, if you must make love, you are not going to do it in this house.’”

“Young people are then forced out into the streets or parks, and if they go over the lines no one is more surprised than the father or mother.” “I know,” he added, “that there is not much room for courting in our houses in South Acton. But there is room. Give secret courtship a secret corner and the cause of more moral downfall than almost anything else. Fathers and mothers, be pleased, have commonsense and remember that you were lovers once, help your children at this great time of their lives.”

Better to Break Off. To the lovers Mr. Pelle said: “Have an interest in each other's interests. Perhaps the interests of your lover bore you hopelessly; perhaps they are subjects you have never cared to think about; but for the other's sake try to understand them.”

“Lastly, if you find you do not agree, unless you feel there is no one else in the world for you, I think you would be wise to break off your engagement. It is the only gentlemanly or ladylike thing to do.”

“The Church,” concluded Mr. Pelle, “has a very mission to sweethearts to-day. We find the divorce court crowded with work, and I say: Thanks to God for every young couple who go courting in the right spirit. They are the people who will break down the miserable doctrine of married life as it exists to-day, when people are carried away by a pretty face or a passing passion but who have never realized until too late what their partners were really like.”

Will Speak Here.—The First Presbyterian Church and the Knox Church, of Victoria, have chosen Sunday on which to hear the Rev. Alexander MacMillan, M.A., D.D., secretary of the Presbyterian General Assembly's committee on church praise. Mr. MacMillan will speak in the morning at the Knox Church, while the First Presbyterian Church will hear him at the evening service. The subject of his addresses will be church praise, and should prove an interesting topic. During his sojourn in the city, Rev. MacMillan will be the guest of Mrs. W. A. Jameson, 1001 Foul Bay Road.

“TIMES CHANGE.” And, we believe for the better. Certainly, there was room for much progress in our civilization in those days, when woman was hitherto the plough-woman in the fields, or cleaned the carcasses after the chase. In later days, we find her at the spinning-wheel; and still later, at the sewing-machine—where all garments for the household were made by mother's hands. Today, women demand greater freedom from the drudgery of household tasks. Over 50,000 housewives in British Columbia are using SHELLEY'S 4X BREAD, doing away with the drudgery of baking. We are glad to serve in the Emancipation of Women.

DEFIES GRAVITATION WITH WATER LIFTER

Hydrantomat Is Invented by London Man

London, Aug. 5.—A water-lifting apparatus which seems to flout the natural law that water cannot run uphill, and by which the tremendous energy of the rising tides may be harnessed for use by man, is an invention of Thomas G. Allen, graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, and now a British subject. The "Hydrantomat," as the apparatus is called, is the result of two years of experiments. A working model has been viewed by scores of engineers, some of whom have been baffled by the simplicity of the cycle of operation. It has lifted water 20 feet above the river level. The hydrantomat is designed to raise water in any quantity from a running stream to any desired height without the use of standard equipment such as pumps, rams, or water-wheels. The apparatus harnesses two natural sources of energy, the weight of a column of water and atmospheric pressure. By means of a series of tanks, one above the other and a sluice-gate, which alternately brings suction and pressure forces into play, 80 per cent. of the energy of the pressure water used is obtained. The height required is reached by carrying the water in tanks, alternating open and closed chambers together with air-conducting pipes, to the desired height. It is believed there is unlimited scope for the hydrantomat on streams where hydraulic power developments are not feasible because of the small amount of fall. One of the first applications is expected to be on an irrigation project in California. In a broad sense, according to the inventor, the purpose of the hydrantomat is to convert the contained energy of large quantities of water at a low head into that of a smaller quantity of water at a high head, or to compel a stream to hoist part of itself up over the land for commercial or agricultural purposes. The principle is fixed; the application is to be determined by local requirements. World patent rights have been issued. It appears that in the world's inventive records the principle of the hydrantomat has been remotely approached, but never attained.

tural industry and from the agricultural industry to mercantile pursuits. I have felt that the Government and our people should aggressively undertake to stem the menace. "With this in mind, I have been getting in touch with number of our big employers to ask their cooperation in eliminating the Oriental from their employ. I have been given favorable answers from such institutions as the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Lumber Company. A number of our shingle and lumber men.

B.C. Public Aroused

"It would seem that the whole public of B.C. is alive to the fact that we must fight this situation very vigorously unless we are to have a similar situation to that which occurred in California. "Furthermore, there has been during the last few years a very considerable amount of unemployment among our white population. One admits that among the unemployed there are some unemployable. Nevertheless, the percentage of unemployable is comparatively small, and I do think that employers in British Columbia should do everything in their power to assist in giving employment to our own white citizens. "Your committee is of the opinion that is employing a certain percentage of Orientals. Would it not be possible to eliminate these—if not all at once by a steady process?

COAL STRIKERS AND OPERATORS TO MEET IN U.S.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Ontario is to have a fuel committee, who will be empowered to superintend the rationing of coal should the coal strike in the United States continue until the cold weather sets in. Wish to Import Coal. London, Ont., Aug. 5.—The London Municipal Council has decided to have a conference with dealers yesterday, decided to recommend to the City Council that an order for 10,000 tons of Welsh or Scotch anthracite be placed immediately.

QUEBEC NAMES COMMITTEE MEN

Quebec, Aug. 5.—The Province of Quebec will be represented on the Central Fuel Board by two representatives who will be appointed next week. It was announced by Premier Taschereau before his departure yesterday for Riviere du Lou. Subsequently, a Coal Controller also will be named.

INDIANA TROOPS KEEPING ORDER

Staunton, Ind., Aug. 5.—Although there was a noticeable feeling of resentment among residents of the coal mining district occupied by Indiana National Guards, Friday night passed quietly and no disorders had been reported to military headquarters here early today. Troops, however, continued to maintain a heavy guard over the twenty by forty mile martial law area, as the situation was considered by officers to be decidedly tense. Merchants write into their ads all the good news they can, and it is interesting reading.

WESTERN MEN AS RAILWAY DIRECTORS

Winnipeg Asks Adequate Western Canada C.N.R. Representation

Winnipeg, Aug. 5.—A larger representation for Western Canada on the new board of directors of the Canadian National Railways is asked by the Winnipeg Board of Trade in a wire sent to Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways, to-day. The Board maintains that for the proper administration of railway affairs at least 50 per cent. of the directors should be composed of Western men, and asks that the chief operating offices be located in Winnipeg.

If it is found impossible to accommodate all these men in the workshops, they will be sent to the hospitals. Dr. Beland observed, "that our first duty is to maintain and disabled soldiers. I intend to comply with the requests laid before me to-day in every possible manner."

Drug Traffic

With new and drastic legislation passed at the last session of Parliament the Federal health authorities, directed by Dr. Beland himself, are now making vigorous efforts to wipe out illicit drug selling. The Minister stated, "Under the act passed at the recent session illicit drug selling is punishable by as severe penalties as anyone could wish." In fact, practically all the suggestions proposed by social service organizations have been put into effect by this legislation. Under this act foreigners convicted of selling drugs may be deported. And it is significant that out of 824 convictions in connection with drugs last year over 600 cases were those of Chinamen. Now we have a weapon which may be somewhat more effective than the previous provisions. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Minister said, "are doing splendid work in fighting the drug traffic."

The German note asked the French Government to reserve its decision until the subject was discussed at the coming meeting of the heads of the Allied Governments. In view of the fact that both France and Great Britain were willing to consider the debt question in connection with the moratorium issue. The French Premier takes the view that payment on pre-war debts is a matter for German businessmen, who are obviously prosperous, and would give no consideration to the present state of German governmental finances.

VICTORIA'S FIGHT AGAINST DOLES FOR UNEMPLOYED FAILS

Minister of Labor, who was closely questioned by delegates. The Minister declined to state exactly what cooperation the Federal Government would give municipalities in dealing with unemployment next winter. Mr. Murdoch emphasized the statement that the Federal Government had declined to attend the Federal unemployment conference in Ottawa in September. Labor delegates were disappointed with Mr. Murdoch's personal pronouncement against unemployed insurance. Warn Harvesters. At yesterday's sessions a warning was issued to municipalities against allowing a promiscuous movement of harvesters to the prairies. Harvest workers should be assured definite jobs before leaving for the prairies. The Coast delegates were told a feature of the proceedings yesterday was an address by Alderman Hayward of Victoria on the work of the Red Cross for permanently disabled men on the Coast.

Y.M.C.A. Camp Proved Splendid Success

AFTER one of the most successful camping seasons in the history of the local association, the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Work Camp at Beaver Lake is drawing to a close. The wind-up will take place on Monday next, when the last boys will return to the city. Under the direction of Harold C. Cross, Boys' Work Secretary, the annual outing of the younger institution members has proved a splendid success, and the number of boys in camp has exceeded that of previous years by a satisfactory margin.

Commencing in the opening weeks of the outing with boys of tender years, the camp programme has been progressively arranged until this week lads of from fifteen to seventeen years of age were under canvas. Thirty-eight new boys joined the camp for the final week, adding to numbers who elected to remain on from the previous period. While Wednesday last was successful as the regular visitor's day, this afternoon and evening the camp will be thrown open to the public for a grand closing entertainment in which field sports, music, and stunts will play an attractive part.

Year by year the camp of the junior boys has become more extensive until this year hundreds of lads were under canvas in the five weeks of the outing. A definite programme of work and play was carried out, being suited to needs of the individual groups in camp. As in last year, the boys went to camp in groups of their own age, and in this manner all enjoyed themselves tremendously.

Ideally situated for the purpose the Beaver Lake camp left nothing to be desired, and it was with great reluctance that the boys could be induced to return to the city. Set in an ever-green background of shady trees, the lake itself presented a beautiful sight, while nearby were all facilities for such an undertaking as that now about to end. The Pavilion, constructed by community effort last year, has proved worth its weight in gold and made a very valuable addition to the accommodation of the former season.

Bronzed and healthy from their stay in the open the boys returned after a brief holiday that will stand them in good stead in the winter to come. Many of the boys are employed in various commercial pursuits in the city, and to such the camp proved a real boon. Plain food, carefully interspersed with generous play and all good things that boys relish, formed the everyday fare of the camp. The boys were treated to a display of agreeable culinary provision that they will remember long after they leave camp.

Whether it was the fresh air, the good cooking, or both, the lads developed enormous appetites, and the camp commissariat was kept busy to keep pace with the ravages made by the long line of healthy hungry young men. Under their own leaders, in agreeable and good companionship, the life at the camp has done wonders for the participants, and once again demonstrated its usefulness in the sphere of boys' work. Great credit is due to Mr. Cross and the Y.M.C.A. management for the excellent arrangement and instruction at the annual outing.

Billy Housefly Goes A-Marketing

OF all the creatures of nature I see around me, I am thankful that I am Billy the Housefly, and of a fish! This week feeling a little lonely I thought I would pay a visit to town. Now flies are not so very different than other creatures in some respects and I had no intention of walking. I waited until my next door neighbor was running for the street car, and then climbed on his shoulder and went along with him. My neighbor paid his fare, but the conductor did not ask me for one.

In the car I settled on the advertising rack, and had a very comfortable ride hanging to the first "O" in the "Door" of a screen door advertisement. When we reached town I alighted and was attracted at once by the persistent and not unattractive odor of a fish store. It was one of these places which keep a stream of water running over the front pane of glass. It makes the window look cool, and serves to hide the fish until the customer gets inside at least. The entrance was equipped with a screen door so I had to wait until an elderly lady came out before I could get inside.

I lodged for a moment on a young Spring salmon, but it was very cold and was festooned with ice, so I sat on top of the water pipe and watched the crowd passing outside. From this vantage point human beings passed in review before me, much as you would look at fish in an aquarium, persons and human beings have always interested me, partly because no two are alike, and every one seems to be a little more eccentric than the last. As I was watching thus a couple approached the window and gazed in.

The lady, plainly they were man and wife, gazed intently at a large halibut, while the man's eyes strayed longingly to a cross-tion of finnan haddie. Evidently the woman said something to him for presently the man turned and gazed steadily at the halibut. Both gazed at the halibut but the man soon wearied and his gaze returned to the finnan haddie. He said something and the lady shifted her gaze over two Spring salmon and gazed at the finnan haddie also. With unmistakable disapproval the woman shook her head, her gaze reverting to the halibut. Plainly it was a question of which will be stronger and I would have been ready to put my last dollar on the lady.

They entered and I held my breath, you see I had made a little wager with myself that the lady would win out. I nearly choked out when she asked to see "some halibut." All attention, the storekeeper trotted out a large piece of halibut, and it was "some halibut," too. It must have taken fifty years to grow to the enormous size its sliced remains indicated. "What price is it?" Oh, really, well, what price, madam? I heard her say. "All prices, madam," said the storekeeper severely and frowned. "What do you charge for this finnan haddie?" inquired the man in a gentle whisper. "That, oh, that is so much a pound," replied the owner. "I don't think we'll get any fish to-day, William," said the woman, and they didn't.

Now that is just what I don't understand in humans. If a fly has a want it goes directly to the source of supply and fills the order. Humans, on the other hand, start with halibut and end up with nothing, as in this instance. What they are really after, of course, is meat, so I followed them to the butcher's store. Here a similar loss of time was spent in gazing through the plate glass window. This time the man's eyes became glued to a particularly fine fowl, a broiler it was labelled, though, of course, that was mere flattery. The lady was examining sausages at the other end of the window, so I watched the man. First he looked at the "broiler" appraisingly, and then smiled somewhat wistfully. Next he gazed at a fine slice of beef, and sighed audibly. His eyes, wandering, struck an ox tongue and there his gaze paused a moment. With evident reluctance he shifted his gaze to a plate of cold cut ham, with a neat placard stating its price and true merit. As this seemed to be his first choice I shifted my gaze to his wife.

From frowning at sausage labels, she had gone to frowning at bacon sliced, and was now frowning more terribly still at a leg of mutton. I soon noticed that it was the price tags that displeased her. Once, at the sight of a pair of mutton kidneys, a fleeting smile began to form, but it fled as swiftly and the frown returned. As if animated by one great thought both entered the store together, without having spoken, and the woman ordered half a pound of liver. Now this was what they had come to town to do. Butcher's clerk and man, gazed after the departing lady for a while and then the man ordered the broiler and paid for it. As he left the store a smile of real happiness lit his countenance. He had his way for once!

Now if I were in business for human trade I would supply all my stores with large and comfortable waiting rooms, where patrons could sit and meditate until they settled on what they really sought. It would pay me, but then I am only a housefly.

FOR CHILDREN The Sandman Story For To-night

HALF FINISHED LAND

ONCE there was a little girl—her name was Elsie—who never finished anything she began. There was a napkin half hemmed in her work basket, and a doll's dress half made. Poor doll had not had a new dress in so long that the old one was quite disgraceful.

When her mother asked her to do the dishes Elsie slowly got up from her breakfast and instead of tying her apron about her she gave it one tie so that it soon slipped as she was working and her dress was spotted. And the dishes? It was a good thing they could not talk for they were plunged helter-skelter into the pan of luke warm water, silver, china and pans, half soaped and half washed, then after dallying a long time, Elsie would put them in the wire drainer and forget them for a while.

She never quite finished any work she had to do. Even her school work was half done. Morning after morning it had to be finished in school when it should have been prepared at home.

One day she was sent to the nearby woods to pick berries and when her pail was half full Elsie decided she wanted to take a walk, and walk she did, or she thought she did, along a path she had never noticed before, when suddenly something tugged at her dress skirt and Elsie found herself running through the woods and she could not stop.

On and on she ran until she came to a strange country where the houses were without roofs and the trees without leaves. "Here we are," said a number of little voices.

Elsie looked down and all around her she saw hundreds of tiny men dressed in brown suits with caps drawn tightly about their faces, their bright little eyes twinkling with laughter as they jumped about. "This is where you belong," said one brown elf. "In the land of half-finished things. We need a queen and the fairies told us you were the very one so we carried you off and this is your kingdom."

"But I don't want to stay here," Elsie began. The Brown Elves paid not the least attention to what she said but tugged at her skirt and off she went.

This time up the steps of what might have been a beautiful house if it had been finished, but the steps were only half built and Elsie had to be careful not to fall as she climbed in the doorway.

"There is your throne," said a Brown Elf, showing Elsie a beautiful gold throne partly covered with red velvet, "you are to sit here and give your orders, we are your subjects."

As Elsie seated herself on the throne, down it went, tumbling her on the floor. "Oh!" cried the Brown Elves, "it is only half finished. Some day we may fix it so it won't fall. And here is your crown; it isn't finished either."

"That isn't a crown," said Elsie, "it is only a twisted piece of gold. A crown should have beautiful jewels in it and lovely lacey work in the front."

"Of course, we know that," said a Brown Elf, "but this is the land of half finished things. You know, you will have to wear it and sit on the tipped over throne."

Just then other Brown Elves came running with the royal robe she was to wear—a beautiful long cape of purple velvet trimmed with ermine; or at least it would have been if it had been finished, but the ermine was sewed on only half way around the robe.

Why, this is not finished," said Elsie as she tried to fasten the robe at her neck. "Where is the loop to fasten it?"

"Oh, of course, it is not finished," said one of the elves. "This is the land of half-finished things, you know. Now what are your royal orders, your majesty?" asked all the Elves, bowing low before her.

"My order is that you lazy creatures start right in finishing the things you have started. The roof of this house should be finished, this throne and crown and—"

But she got no further for up jumped all the Brown Elves, and, tugging at her skirt, they cried, "You are not fit for the Queen of Half-Finished Land; go back to the place where things are well done."

Elsie opened her eyes. She had fallen asleep beside a berry bush, and tugging at her dress was Rover, who thought she had slept long enough.

Elsie was glad to find herself safe in her own land and not in the place where things were never finished.

On her way home she thought a great deal about her bad habit of leaving her work half finished and she made up her mind that the fairies should never again give her name to the Brown Elves of Half-Finished Land as being the very one for their queen.

HOUSEHOLD MECHANICS

HERE'S HOW YOU MAKE IT.

Don't let that old phonograph lie around idle. Turn it into a motor boat. The job will require a good bit of mechanical skill, but it is interesting.

Aside from the phonograph motor, the material needed is simple and easy to get: two 1/2-inch boards, securely fastened together to make the hull; a sheet of tin; some heavy wire; a strong rubber band, and some brads.

Study the drawing above very carefully. Make the flat hull first. Note especially the small detailed drawing showing the rear end of the hull.

Make Propeller Next. The propeller may next be made. This is shown in the small sketch. It consists of a square core of wood with a hole drilled through the center lengthwise to receive the shaft. The blades are fastened on the sides. The propeller is held securely to the shaft by means of square pieces of tin at each end. (See B. above.) The wire for the propeller shaft should be left quite long to allow for later determining the position of the rear pulley. This should be located not more than a quarter of an inch from the edge of the hull. It is fastened to the shaft in the same manner as the propeller is.

Fit Shaft Securely. The end of the shaft away from the pulley is held in position by a piece of tin one inch square, through the center of which a hole is drilled just large enough to permit the shaft to revolve freely. This piece is fastened with the center of the hole on the upper edge of the projection of the hull. It will be necessary to form a half bearing in this part of the hull for the shaft. Permit the shaft to extend beyond the tin about an eighth of an inch.

The bearing on the end near the pulley is shown in the small sketch. The location of the shaft is determined, then a smaller groove is filed in the shaft at a point corresponding with the outside edge of the hull. A small collar of tin is slipped over the shaft, fitting into the groove, then bradded to the side of the hull. Remember in assembling these pieces, that the propeller should revolve very freely.

Tilt Motor Up. The location of the motor should next be determined. It will have to tilt upward in front enough to allow the winding crank to clear the deck on the down stroke. Galvanized angles are used to hold the motor in place, lock the motor up at the required angle, then bring the angles to their proper position before fastening the position of the holes to be drilled.

The size of the cabin is not shown on the drawing, because it can be determined when the motor is in place. As the boat should be as light as possible, be generous with doors and windows in the cabin.

The front pulley is attached to the record stem and is fastened by means of a drive fit. The length should be enough to line up with the rear pulley.

The method of operation to the evident needs no special mention. Painting will add materially to the appearance of the boat.

Excellent Results

In Camera Contest

NOW in the second round of its course, the photographic contest is progressing rapidly towards a close. August 31 is the final day of the contest, which has been run in weekly periods from the beginning of the previous month. Many charming camera studies have been received, and though it is found that a relatively small proportion of our junior citizenship has acquired the camera-hunting hobby, nevertheless the results to date have been surprising in the excellence of the individual contributions.

The winner for this week is Miss Winifred Chapman, a sixteen-year-old reader of 1427 Gladstone Avenue. The winner has caught a glimpse of the spirit of the woods in her study, taken at Goldstream. Laughingly over rounded boulders, and leaping on its way to the sea the water is seen to round a fairy grove of graceful shade and break out into the full glory of the sun, light on the dancing waters. Overhead is a delightful bower of shady branches, in which one can almost hear the faint fanning of a summer zephyr. Altogether Miss Chapman's entry presents a very beautiful picture.

Twice consecutively a winner in this present contest, Miss Eva Hambleton, a sixteen-year-old reader of 2550 Blackwood Street, contributed a study of the artificial lake at Beacon Hill that is worthy of special mention. Gracefully dabbling their plunge in the water three swans are seen disporting themselves at leisure. Against a background that is "the acme of peace and rest," the swans present a delightful contrast of idyllic activity. Many other photographs were received, and will be dealt with at a later date.

For the benefit of those of our junior readers who have not yet joined the contest the rules to be observed are given again. The contest is rapidly drawing to a close, and new entrants are advised to get their studies in as soon as possible, for many have been submitting week by week, and thus have a larger number of photographs before the judges for the finals.

As previously explained a weekly prize of one dollar is awarded, while special prizes are to be given over the whole series at the conclusion of the contest. The finals include a first of $25, a second of $12, a third of $6, and a special prize for the best aggregate collection submitted over the contest period. The rules are simple, and should present no difficulty.

The Rules.

1. Open to all of sixteen years of age or under.
2. Actual taking of picture, from choice of subject to exposure to be actual work of entrant, unaided.
3. Entries to be submitted by eight o'clock on Wednesday evening in each week.
4. All entries to have been subsequent to July 8, the opening date.
5. Age, name, and address of contributor to be clearly stated.
6. All entries will be held until the closing of the contest for inclusion in the final judging. Where the entries are merely loaned stamped envelopes for their return must accompany each submission.

Three sections are included in the contest, namely, beautiful places, novelties, and people. Beautiful places are self-evident, and require no explanation. Novelties include your pets, and all strange or unusual sights which appear novel to you. People, of course, include all manner of people, from tiny tots to adults, at home or abroad. Remember that you may submit as many entries as you wish, but each must be the work of your own hands in so far as the actual taking of the picture is concerned. Expensive cameras are not necessary, and indeed some of the best work submitted to date has been taken by small box cameras of various makes. It is not expected that the entrant do all the work in connection with the turning out of the finished print, but where this is done the entrant should be given credit for it. Expensive cameras are not necessary, and indeed some of the best work submitted to date has been taken by small box cameras of various makes. It is not expected that the entrant do all the work in connection with the turning out of the finished print, but where this is done the entrant should be given credit for it.

The object of the photographic contest is to stir up more enthusiasm in camera work as a hobby for all. The camera, sensibly handled, can be made one of the most useful members of your outfit or indoor life. For the object of this contest indoor work has been excluded as too difficult for beginners, and sufficient scope may be found out of doors for all the purpose of this present competition.

Do not treat your camera as a weird contrivance of "gadgets" and "dudlickers." Cameras are amenable to simple treatment, and will give a rich return for little expenditure of time and thought. All cameras have directions as to their operation, and where a doubt exists the nearest drug store clerk would be glad to remove that doubt on your special problem, be it a heavy shutter or a foggy print. Remember the date and time of the contest, and start now, if you are not already a member of our camera-lovers' coterie.

Promote Swimming

By Essay Contest

"WHY EVERY BOY AND GIRL SHOULD LEARN TO SWIM" is the title of an essay competition now opened by the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, in connection with their water gala slated for August 19. Two prizes of $5 each, two of half that amount, and ten tickets to the gala itself hang in the balance.

"All boys and girls up to the age of sixteen years are eligible to enter the competition. The essay must not be over 500 words, and is being conducted by the B. C. section of the C.A.S.C. All essays should bear the address and age of the competitor with his or her name and sent to the secretary of the B. C. section of the C.A.S.C. at 716 Yates Street, before August 12.

"The following are the prizes to be won: For boys and girls up to eleven years of age, first, $5; second, $2.50. For boys and girls from eleven to sixteen years, first, $5; second, $2.50. The next five in each class will receive a complimentary ticket to the gala."

A PLUCKY RESCUE

Not long ago one of the most plucky rescues was made by a young man of another city. Three children, left alone in a gasoline launch, were in danger of their lives when the launch caught fire and gasoline exploded, surrounding the boat with burning gasoline on the surface of the water. The launch, itself, was burning too. The young man, hearing the screams ran to a bridge over the stream and dived into the middle of the burning gasoline. Swimming under water he approached the boat and in coming to the surface did so with a quick twist which flung the burning gasoline some distance away, making a break in the flames, and in this manner he made three trips with the fire and rescued the children. The launch burned to ashes to the water level. Asked afterwards how he happened to think of the plucky method of the rescue, he stated he had seen a similar feat done in a circus once when an acrobat dived into a tank with burning gas on top. A quick and a plucky heart in this case turned that circus performance to great account.

ALL SHOULD SWIM

In the week past one more young life was added to the list of preventable deaths, when a young lad hardly in his teens met his end in the waters of the harbor. All should know how to swim, not merely stay afloat on the water, but to swim actively and well. Some there are who are not strong enough to stand the rigors of the cold water in these latitudes, but in the greater number of cases the inability to swim is coincident with the failure to find where opportunity is present. Do not let this season pass without making the effort. If not your own life, it may be the life of your best friend that hangs in the balance. Of many branches of athletics none are more healthy than swimming, and perhaps no sport contributes more to its advocate than this simple pastime.

HAVE YOU TWO MINUTES?

A competent authority is cited as saying that if one had a record of all spare time that was wasted in the average lifetime, it would be found to total nearly one-third of that period. It sounds highly probable that that is the case, but even if it were not, everyone wastes valuable minutes that could be devoted to active use. At your age, little reader, knowledge is perhaps the most urgent requirement. Next time you have two minutes take up a book, or any other reading matter and read until you find a word you do not understand. Get the dictionary and see what that one word means. It may take two minutes, but make that word yours for good, and in a very short time your vocabulary will be rounded out surprisingly. Of such a one the world says, "He is well informed." Try it.

HOW ABOUT READING?

Only one more month of the Summer holidays to go, and which of our readers can say that they have read at least one good book during the first half of the long vacation? In this age of bustle and fuss little enough time is made for reading, yet such a favorable opportunity as the present holidays should not be allowed to pass without adding at least one good standard work on some useful subject to the list of authors studied. Be it science, art, or literature, all should be able to close the Summer holidays with one accomplishment to their credit. Like many a seemingly fruitless waste of time, the reading of a good book is never lost opportunity but future gain. Let your parents and teachers direct your reading, but by all means read.

THOUGH NOT BRILLIANT, CRAIG ALWAYS HANGS ON

Good Nature and Unruffled Serenity in Debate Stamp the Premier of Northern Ireland.

SIR JAMES CRAIG, as premier of Northern Ireland, is a strong, silent man in office; but, unlike many of the same species, he is good-natured and even talkative when free from the worries of state.

During the war he was quarter-master-general to one of the Ulster divisions, and two incidents of those days, as related by Hesketh Pearson, in John Bull, seem to sum up the character of the man. They illustrate his calmness no less than his immovability, and prove that it is just as difficult to irritate as it is to influence him.

Anyone who has spent the day with his ear glued to the telephone, and dealt at the same time with a mass of correspondence, and tried during the process to keep a clear head for the persistent comings and goings of people and messages requiring instant attention, plus the ordinary routine work of an office in full swing—anyone who has done this will have experienced the murderous feeling that rises in the breast each time the telephone bell tinkles.

At the end of one peculiarly distressing day of this nature, Sir James was as cool and collected as if he had been spending the hours alternately dozing and reading in his library; and the only remark he made to his subordinate was: "You might shift the telephone to the other side of the table in the morning. I'll give my left ear a turn to-morrow."

On another occasion a brother-officer was pointing out to him the immense advantages of a certain system in the maintenance of supplies. Sir James listened very attentively, nodding his head every now and then to signify comprehension, and occasionally ejaculating such expressions as "admirable," "quite so," "excellent," "of course," etc., etc. When the other had finished, he sat back in his chair with an acquiescent gesture, apparently converted to the idea.

"I'm glad," said the officer, "that you are favorably impressed with the scheme. When will you put it into practice?"

"Never!" promptly returned Sir James, "though I'm very grateful indeed for your lucid explanation."

HE MISSED HER AGAIN

HERBERT SMITH, the bowie knife thrower, was assisted in his act by his elderly wife. She stood against a board facing the audience while her husband stood twenty feet away and threw bowie knives at her. The trick was to escape hitting her, until at the end of the act the board was stuck full of knives, from which the woman stepped unharmed.

The act never failed to elicit shrieks from women in the audience in the cities east of the Rockies, but at the opening performance in Tonopah, Nev., in the days when the mining population of that city contained no women, knife after knife was thrown at the woman by her husband and silence was maintained by the audience. At the thirtieth throw, however, a voice was heard from the rear of the hall.

"My God! He missed her again."

A Concession

"MY dear, what is the secret of your keeping your servant so long?"

"Oh, we gave her the house and moved out into the garage ourselves."—Florida Times-Union.

Half Portion of Stateswoman

THE woman's cause goes marching on a step farther by the winning of the senatorial nomination from Minnesota by Mrs. Anna D. Olesen, primarily a good mother and housewife. It keeps her very busy during the canning season to see that fruit is properly preserved, the sweeping and dusting done, and the garden hoed. After that, all she has to do is to dash away in her little Ford to make a few speeches and tend to her public duties. Mrs. Olesen will likely be the first woman member of the Senate of the United States. She is pictured with her broom, and, even in the Senate, there may be things to sweep.

Parable of Shindy Puzzles an Engineer

Shaughnessy Indicated a Problem in Railway Competition in Terms of Solomon.

IT is not impossible that the Irish Free State may have a Canadian for its first governor-general—Lord Shaughnessy—the man with the consuming eyes—now unfortunately dimmed in sight—and one of the typical ways an Irishman sometimes has of conveying his meaning in a humorous, if puzzling, way.

The remembrance of both of these characteristics is vivid yet among the men on the Canadian Pacific Railway, illustrated particularly in an incident that happened to one engine.

Competition was so keen in those days that it was decreed that even no C.P.R. passes were to be issued to Grand Trunk officials, an order against which President Hays retaliated in kind.

It was about this time that it came to Shaughnessy's ears that the passenger engineers on the Smiths Falls and Montreal division were running races against the Grand Trunk engineers where the tracks are side by side between St. Annes and Montreal.

The new general manager left word that the first passenger engineer in from the west was to report at his office. "I hear you are running races with the Grand Trunk between here and Vaudreuil," shouted the chief, as the dumbfounded man faced those gimlet eyes.

The poor devil tried to make an explanation, but Shaughnessy glared at him.

"If I hear any more tales like that, you will go back to firing, where you belong," He indicated that the interview was concluded.

Half-way through the door, the engineer was halted by another shout from the chief. "Why, d—n you! If you let them beat you, I'll lay you off for six months."

Sir Thomas' Deduction Strangely Prophetic

Ex-Finance Minister Predicted Assassinations of Prominent People Just Before Sir H. Wilson's Death.

ALTHOUGH noted for his ability as a financier, for his legal acumen, and for his shrewd intellect, it is not generally known that Sir Thomas White, the former dominion finance minister, possesses the gift of prophecy.

A day or two before the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, general world conditions were being discussed at the city hall by Sir Thomas and Hume Cronyn, chairman of the Toronto Street Railway arbitration board. Comparing the prevailing universal unrest with similar conditions at previous stages of the world's history, Sir Thomas ventured the opinion that murders of prominent personages might be expected at any time.

"You said it," Mr. Cronyn remarked in effect to Sir Thomas on meeting him the day following the terrible tragedy.

THE PRIME MINISTER HAS NO SMALL VANITIES

HON. W. E. FOSTER became premier of New Brunswick without previously serving an apprenticeship in a legislative body—a distinction which has been enjoyed by few, if any, men in democratic countries. But success has not turned his head, Mr. Foster is free from small vanities, as the following story, which he tells with quiet enjoyment, illustrates:

One day the premier was on a fishing trip in the northern part of the province, where Hon. Peter J. Veniot, minister of public works and leader of the Acadicians—sometimes described by the opposition press as the "big boss" of the Foster administration—is more of an idol than in the southern counties.

To his Acadician boatman Premier Foster said: "Well, Jacques, if you saw Mr. Veniot and I struggling in the river, and could only save one of us, what would you do?"

"Well, sir," said Jacques, "if it was a question of giving a vote to you or Mr. Veniot, I'd vote for you, 'cause Peter would win his election anyway. And if it was a question of pulling one of you out of the water, I'd rescue you, 'cause Peter is always able to look out for himself."

Realistic Study of Sarah Bernhardt in Her Old Age.

IN this remarkable sketch of the "Divine Sarah," Cesare, of the New York Times, has once again realistically caught the salient flame of the spirit of his subject. At 78, it is still the undimmed deep, bright blue eyes, besides her determined will to live and work; that characterizes the greatest actress of the age, now engaged in planning a lighthouse for her island home on the French coast as a memorial, an ever-burning remembrance.

"A Gift for the Missus" Received by Lord Byng

WHILE in Regina during his western tour the governor-general visited the Grey Nuns' Hospital, where there were some returned men convalescing from operations. One of these was Scottie MacQueen, a well-known character whose lower leg had been so badly lacerated by a shell as to be useless. He had after four years' hesitation asked to have it amputated. The operation had been performed, and he was now able to hobble about. He had learned to make head bags, rather awful ones at that.

FROM "SCARECROW" TO M.P.

ONE of the most interesting of British M.P.s is Mr. George Edwards, who has been telling the story of his life to his constituents in South Norfolk in a lecture called "From Crow-Scaring to Westminster."

He began to earn wages when he was four and a half years old, receiving a shilling a week for scaring crows. At seven he was a horse-boy at one-and-six a week, and at ten a plough-boy at two shillings a week.

He gave up drinking and smoking in order to buy a few books to educate himself. Among other things he has been a Methodist preacher. As he was unable to read, he had to learn the lessons and hymns by heart.

HIS PROPER RANK

A GOOD story was told recently by Admiral Lord Beatty concerning a fellow sailor. At the age of fifty he suddenly fell desperately in love with a pretty widow, but not finding it easy to make a direct proposal, he decided to address her in the speech of the sea.

"Kate," said he, "your boat is drifting down the stream of life, with no strong hand to steer it safely past the rocks. May I be your captain, and sail it for you?"

"No, Jack," Kate answered, with an engaging blush, although in a firm tone, "but you may be my second mate if you like."

A Jab From the Ancient Mariner

"WHEN I was shipwrecked," said Captain Bow-sprit, "I came across a tribe of wild women who had no tongues."

"Good gracious!" cried the fair maiden. "How could they talk?"

"They couldn't!" replied the old salt. "That's what made 'em wild!"—Pearson's Weekly.

THE SPIRITED WAGER REV. DEAN HARRIS MADE

It Was Liquid—Not Just Water—and a Trifle Brown.

REV. DEAN HARRIS, of St. Catharines, is one of the veteran and well-beloved Roman Catholic divines of Canada. His Irish wit is of the evergreen variety. As illustrative of his refreshing candor and his bantering ways they tell a story of a lecture that he gave in Toronto many years ago—long before the dry epoch came.

Half way through his lecture, Dean Harris became a bit dry. He turned to a priest sitting nearby—let us call him Father Murphy—and hinted that he would like a drink. Father Murphy obligingly vanished. Turning to the audience, and dropping for the moment his theme, Dean Harris said, "And I'll bet you that omadhaun, Father Murphy, brings me water!" Laughter greeted this prophecy, and Dean Harris went on in a bantering mood to make imaginary wagers with his audience that the liquid would be water. He had the odds up finally to about 10 to 1. Then the good priest entered and set a glass, well filled, before the lecturer. The dean took it up and held it before his eyes. It looked a trifle brown—not just like water. He carried it to his lips and tasted it. Then a smile broke over his broad countenance. Putting his hand to one side of his mouth—the side nearest Father Murphy—he said in a stage whisper to the expectant audience: "I'd have lost!"

And Father Murphy wondered what all the laughter was about.

The Name America

"AMERICA" first appeared on the map of the world drawn by no less an artist than Leonardo da Vinci, and Major, the expert on the science of map drawing, explains the circumstances as follows:

"The first map known to exist with the new world delineated upon it is that drawn by Juan de la Cosa, the pilot of Columbus on his second voyage. This map is dated 1500, Juan de la Cosa was with Ojeda and Vespucci, and afterward with Ojeda on his last and ill-fated expedition.

"In May, 1507, just the year after the death of Columbus, a man named Martin Waldseemüller wrote a book to which was appended a Latin account of the four voyages of Vespucci. In this book, published at St. Die in Lorraine, Waldseemüller proposed that the name 'America' should be given to the new world, in honor of Vespucci, whom he erroneously supposed was the discoverer of the continent.

"In 1508 the first engraved map containing the new world appeared in an edition of Ptolemy, printed at Rome; but this does not bear the name 'America.' But in 1509 this name appears as if it were already accepted as a well-known denomination in an anonymous work entitled 'Globus Mundi,' published at Strasburg.

"The map of the world of Leonardo da Vinci, presumably issued in 1514, has the name 'America' across the South American continent as well as the North—a Dutch author and an Italian artist contrived, possibly without malice, to rob Columbus of at least some of the fruits of his courage and perseverance."—Detroit News.

Electrical Wizards

DR. CHARLES P. STEINMETZ, the little hunched figure standing on the steps of his large laboratory at Schenectady, New York, projects lightning and thunder bolts at will in his great workshop. He is talking to Signor W. Marconi, the discoverer of the wireless, who during his inspection of the General Electric plant was shown a new tube invention, about two inches long, which it is expected will revolutionize long-distance wireless communication, eliminating all the noise that causes trouble now. For the first time in fifteen years these two electrical wizards met, and the conversation drifted to the subject of Dr. Steinmetz's pet alligators, the last of which is now dead.

RECOVERING OUR LOST SPARE TIME

By JOHN PILGRIM.

WE got to talking at the home last night. That comes under the head of spot news, because of the we in it. Usually a domestic colloquy consists of Mrs. Pilgrim doing a lot of talking—sort of breathless talking, lest I horn a word in here and there—while I try to keep her from seeing that I am picking out words in the book. But last night we talked.

"How was it that we had so much spare time when we were first married?" we asked each other. "And have no spare time at all now?"

One answer, of course, might be that we had no spare time when we were first married. But we did have. Mrs. P. resurrected the set of books in which she set down our incomes and outgoings for the first few years. We were the lively little travelers, then. Hardly a night at home. My work was not suffering, either. The record shows that.

"How come?" we asked. "How come?" We found the answer. In those days we were not so well off as we are now. We did not have a lot of antique junk in the drawing-room. We had not bought a lot of some one else's ancestral silver. We did not have bonds and stocks and dogs and cats to watch. We lived in two rooms and a kitchen and a bath instead of in nine rooms and two baths and trouble with the servants. We were not worried by things. If we wished to shut the door and go the only thing we had to do was to shut the door and go.

And we propose to beat our way back to freedom. We have taken a contract on a dinky little bungalow out on the hill and we propose to live there. We will have a maid come to do the heavy lifting, and we will take what meals we wish at the hotel.

We propose to eliminate. We are going to throw overboard a lot of lumber that was worse than worthless. It not only served no good purpose, but forced us into slavery to it. We are going back to the lumberless days of our early married life. If the burglars break into the bungalow they will promptly break out again. There will be nothing there for them to steal! Hooray! We're free! Free of handsome, valuable, deadly, damnable, drugging possessions which have imprisoned us for years past. There's only one new thing I plan to buy. That's a framed motto containing this one sentence: "Elimination is the price of freedom."

A Mean Old Thing

THERE once was a delectably wicked old woman.

Her name was Aunt Elvira.

She was as rich as she was wicked, having scratched and scabbled all her life for money.

All of her life she had scratched and scabbled for money, living entirely alone that she might devote herself to the single end of getting rich.

At the end of seventy years she had gobs of gold stowed in her hoek; oodles of gold lining her carpets; slathers of gold hid under every rotten plank in her miserable old shanty.

When at the age of three-score-and-ten she had accumulated her fortune she took a day off to count up her relatives: cousins, nieces, nephews, grand-nieces and grand-nephews. Sixty they were in all.

"Hee-hee," she cackled. Then she spat on the floor and rubbed her hands.

"I will visit these sixty relatives," she said.

She visited them. She spent the next ten years of her life visiting them. Each relative, on the first day of meeting, she would take aside and slip this whisper:

"Never 'ee fear, dearie. I've a little stowed away in my sock for 'ee. 'Ee won't starve when I'm gone."

As a consequence of these golden promises Auntie was waited on hand and foot. She went from relative to relative eating her meals free, getting her lodging free, getting free of charge service that would make a twenty-dollar-a-day hotel-dweller envious.

And all her relatives she made miserable. She insisted on sitting in when their children were courting; she insisted on sitting in at all their family pow-wows—at each of which functions she would cackle and spit on the floor in most disconcerting fashion. But they put up with her, for they remembered the words: "Never 'ee fear, dearie; 'ee won't starve when I'm gone."

One day—after ten years had passed—Aunt Elvira blew the works.

She went to Paris—took in all the cabarets there, saw all the summer reviews, gave a champagne supper every night. She lived high. She cut up rough. . . . Then she cracked under the strain, went back home and kicked off.

When Aunt Elvira's will was read all the relatives were in attendance. They couldn't be in at the death; but they were there for the wake, and they were there for the will.

The will was read, and Aunt Elvira was found to be as good as her word.

She left all she had in the world to her relatives—a little something to each of the sixty. Sixty dollars in all she left—a dollar a relation.

But the relations got back at her, all right, all right. They pooled together the sixty dollars, added two hundred and forty more to the pool and put up a tombstone over Auntie's grave. A literary member of the clan wrote an epitaph:

HERE LIES AUNTIE
AN ANCIENT FRAUD—
SHE LEFT A WILL,
WE CAN'T APPLAUD.

SHE MADE OF HER KITH
A COLLECTIVE DUB—
DUB COMMENDS HER TO BEELZEBUB.

Let Them Smoke On!

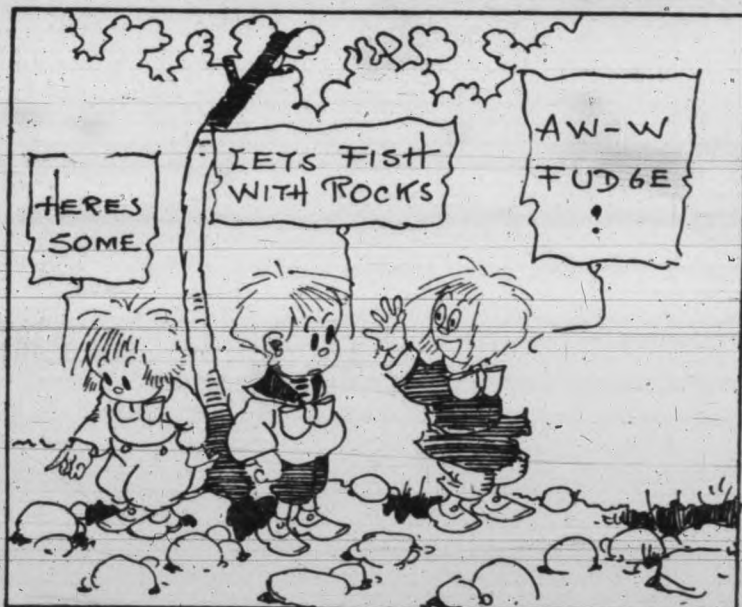

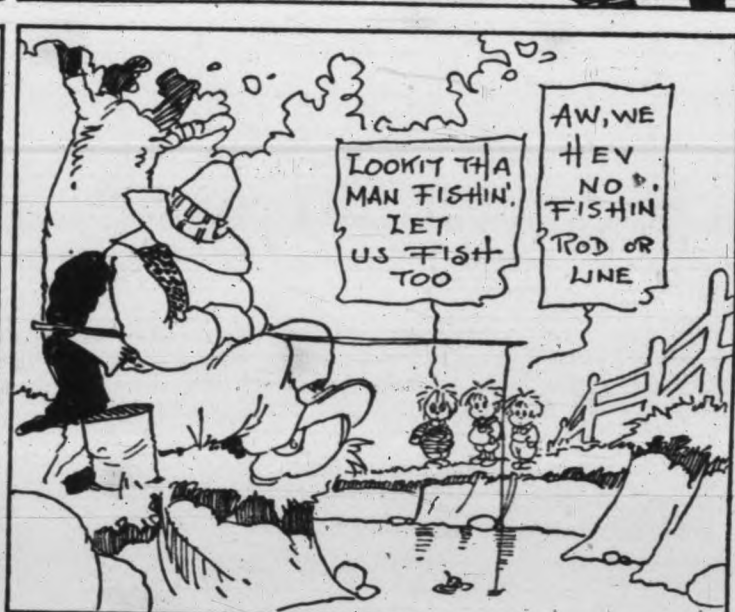

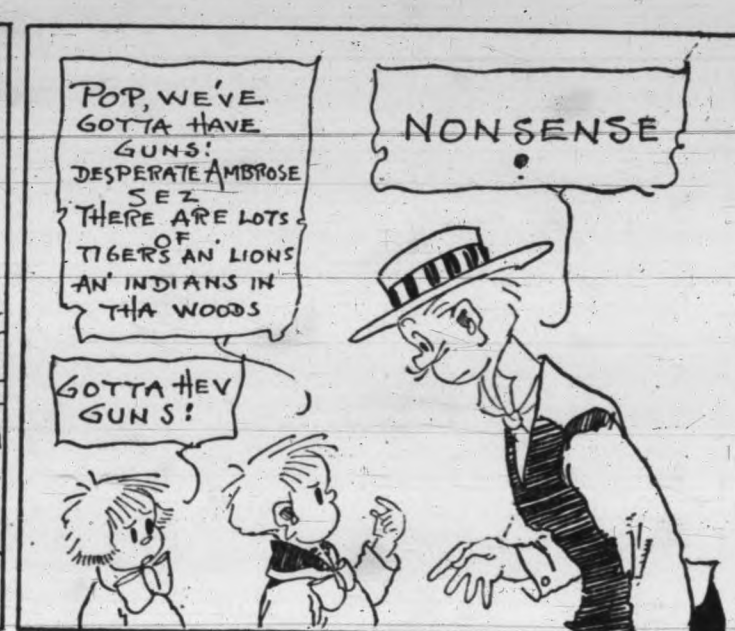

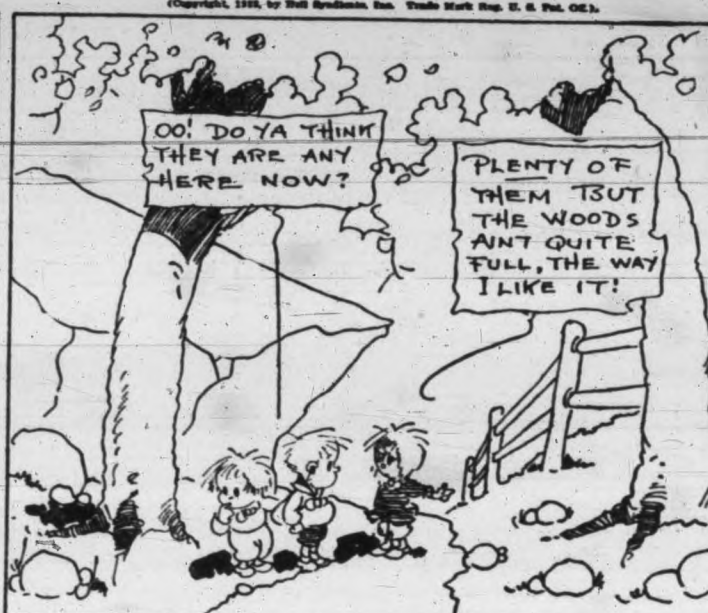

From all accounts, Professor Franzén Swedellus, of McMaster University, Toronto, is a confirmed misogynist. When so much comment was rife in regard to women at the university smoking, a letter appeared in the Varsity taking strong opposition to the habit. This apparently irritated his sense of women's importance to such an extent that when lecturing to a class in Spanish at University College, and an opportunity for his opinion presented itself, he remarked that "as far as I am concerned, women may smoke both here and hereafter."

COULDN'T BE DONE

A profiteer bought a wonderful country home and set about making it even more wonderful. One of his suggestions was a fish-pond which should contain eels.

"But you can't keep eels in a pond," objected his neighbor, to whom he had confided his idea. "They have to go down to the sea every year, you know."

"Well, I won't have 'em," gasped the profiteer; "I always takes the risks and kids every year, but I ain't going to take no eels."

A Bundle of Faggots

You remember how the father in the old fable illustrated the strength of mutual co-operation to his quarrelsome sons. He took a bundle of faggots and showed that, though it was easily possible to break the sticks separately, it was impossible to do so while they were all banded firmly together.

"Unity is Strength"

The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada is the bond which holds nearly 100,000 individuals together in an unbreakable corporate body. Neither the great war nor the influenza plague impaired its stability in the slightest degree. Each individual policyholder gives fair and exact proportion of financial support, and receives in return the full benefit of the social co-operation of his associates, for the financial protection of those dependent upon him, or for himself in advanced years. There is no other expense than the cost of administering this mutual service.

MILK PRODUCERS WIN HIGH AWARD

Vancouver Island Butter Proves Best in Canada

Vancouver Island Milk Producers have won the distinction of winning the highest points in the Dominion of Canada for butter, according to the Dominion Government's report just issued following tests of butter produced in all the provinces of Canada.

Out of a possible 100 points the Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association secured 98. The Lacombe Creamery, Alberta, came second with a score of 97.4, which was the same number of points gained by the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries. The points were given on flavor, texture, incorporation of moisture, color, salting and packing. The Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association got full points in all classifications except in flavor, in which the butter fell two points, otherwise the Association would have won the honor of a full 100 per cent. Daniel is the butter-maker for the Association.

NATIONAL SPIRIT IS CANADA'S NEED

Dr. S. F. Tolmie Addresses Native Sons

Emphasizing the importance of creating and stimulating in every possible way a national spirit in Canada and pointing out that owing to the huge area of the Dominion the greatest handicap Canada had in attaining this aim was the lack of knowledge of one part of the country regarding the other parts of Canada, Dr. S. F. Tolmie gave an inspiring address at the first monthly dinner given by the Native Sons of the Dominion Hotel last evening.

The folly of any community even thinking of disposing of its agricultural and exhibition grounds, such as was proposed in Victoria, was referred to by the speaker during the course of his remarks. Following up his thought of building up a great national spirit in Canada, Dr. Tolmie referred to conditions in the Maritime Provinces, in Quebec and Ontario and in the prairie provinces and British Columbia, suggesting some remedies that might be practiced. During the course of his remarks Dr. Tolmie stated the average family in Quebec was 5 1/2 as compared with Ontario's 1 1/2.

Market for Settler. The necessity of making the settler feel at home after he arrives here and encouraging him in every way was pointed out. It was wholly the Government's duty to find a market for the settler, who should be made to feel that he is one of the Canadians wherever he happens to locate. "Of course that does not apply to the Asiatics," said the speaker.

While building up the Canadian national spirit it was important at the same time to develop stronger ties with Great Britain, from which country most of Canadian people were descended. "No red-blooded Canadian can read of the accomplishments of the British Empire on land and sea in times of peace and war without being thrilled," said Dr. Tolmie.

While the United States market should be developed on account of its proximity, it was subject to tariff change which greatly upset Canadian trade. Our great sheet anchor in trade is the British market, which is the world's market and the most stable. There is a strong desire to increase trade with the Empire and should take the greatest interest in it as it would result in binding the Empire together and making it more self-sufficient than it is during the great war.

A Dire Calamity. Before closing his address on the question of Canadian national ideals Dr. Tolmie took occasion to refer to the proposed sale of the grounds at the Willows used by the B. C. Agricultural Association as an exhibition ground and park.

The sale of this asset would be a dire calamity to Victoria. There are many much smaller cities and towns in Canada I know of who would consider such grounds their greatest asset. Nobody could expect that the grounds would pay interest on the investment if used only one week a year. It was the business of the people to get busy if they wished to make the grounds revenue producing. Millions of people passed through the gates of the exhibition grounds of Canadian cities annually. In Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Brandon and other places, exhibitions resulted in bringing many people to the cities who in many cases were forced to set up tents for lack of accommodation and yet they were glad to spend a whole week there to witness the exhibition and their attractions.

"I have visited exhibitions where more visitors passed through the gates in one day than there was population in the town," said the speaker. President J. O. Dunford introduced the speaker, who, as a national and a popular public man of Canada, was accorded a generous reception. William Ivel and Rev. W. G. Wilson moved and seconded the vote of thanks. Mr. J. O. Dunford, who was Dr. Tolmie's opponent in the Federal election, said it was an honor to have Dr. Tolmie address the Native Sons and he heartily agreed with Dr. Tolmie's remarks regarding patriotic aims.

Vaughan Jones and D. Ogilvy contributed vocal numbers and Master Billy Dunford and Arthur Morton, two small Canadians assisted in the accompaniment. Community singing was also indulged in and the affair was a great success in every way.

PUBLIC LIBRARY A VITAL FACTOR

Island People Appreciate Value of Service, Report Says

Cumberland, B. C., Aug. 5.—The public library as a vital factor in the life and education of the people of Vancouver Island was referred to in the report of George L. Warren, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island in convention here to-day. The report reads:

"Last year mention was made as to the lack of the Public Library in the communities on the Island, and I would again call your attention to the need of libraries to keep the island abreast with the times of the world. Libraries are not merely a form of recreation, but essential part of the educational system of any country. Efforts at present on the Island, although most creditable in some cases, are capable of great expansion, and experience shows that the cost to a city of maintenance of library activities in Eastern Canada and the United States is given as 50c per capita per year, minimum. "Adequate library service requires between 75c and $1 per capita per year. At the minimum rate and based on English population of 1922, the towns on the Island would be the following amounts:

Nanaimo	$4,500
Cumberland and Ladysmith	1,500
Signey	600
Duncan	600
Port Alberni	675
Courtenay	450

"Actual conditions are as follows: "Victoria students per capita per year and 46 per cent. of the total population of the city are registered borrowers of the library. "337,883 books were circulated last year, while the 22,279 were taken out by children of the public school age, thus building standards for future citizens.

"Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich have arranged an agreement with Victoria whereby their residents receive library service.

Nanaimo. "The library activities are still financed by the I. O. O. F. in the main, assisted by voluntary contribution and a small grant from the municipality.

"The number of books circulated in 1921 was 16,305, or about 40 per cent. more than last year.

"Good work is being done and special credit is due to voluntary workers."

"It really would seem that the time is now opportune for municipal effort. Prince Rupert has passed a by-law this spring and is to open a library with a 'trained' librarian in charge, a vote of $2,500 having been passed."

Cumberland. "Libraries Association organized last year. Between April and December 4,703 books were circulated. "There are great possibilities of expansion in this city."

Signey. "Through lack of funds the library is maintained through the efforts of a few of its citizens. Circulation last year was 2,454."

Courtenay. "There has recently been formed a library organization, but so far only a few books have been borrowed from the Provincial library."

Cassidy. "A library association was formed there last year and books are being taken on the co-operative plan."

Duncan. "The library is conducted there by the Women's Institute, 2,600 books were circulated last year, of which 51 were juvenile."

Port Alberni. "Port Alberni has no public library, although during the last few years a group of 100 books has been maintained for the use of High School students. It is hoped that in the near future efforts will be made to encourage the operation of public libraries through the Island."

PLIMLEY TAKES NEW AGENCIES

The Maxwell and Chalmers agency has been taken over by Thomas Plimley, Victoria's veteran automobile dealer, according to an announcement made to The Times to-day.

Plimley's have the Maxwell and the Chalmers cars on the showroom floors in the big Broughton Street garage and the public are invited to examine the latest models in these two popular makes.

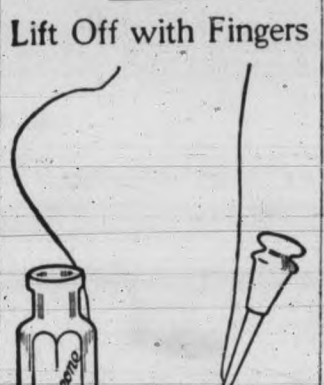

Asked as to how business in the automotive trade is progressing these days, Mr. Plimley reports that there is no cause for complaint. The 1922 model anything resembling the older models. Every modern contrivance for the comfort of the motorist has been incorporated in the construction of the Maxwell.

The Chalmers, of course, is a car that has always been very popular with particular motorists. The 1922 model Chalmers too have many improvements and the car is sure to make a big impression on the local market.

OLDSMOBILE NOW IN BETTER SUPPLY

Revercomb Motors Receive Shipments of Latest Models

Revercomb Motors Limited, local Oldsmobile distributors, report the receipt of a carload shipment of 1922 models and they are now in a position to meet some of the orders that have been piling up. The trouble in the past has been that the demand has exceeded the supply and from now on it is believed there will be no difficulty in getting deliveries fairly well on time.

Revercomb's have another carload or two on the way to Victoria. They are now displaying on the floors of their show room the closed models. The local concern has had three carloads ahead on order of which they could not get delivery. "The new eight we have delivered are doing splendidly. They are the nearest thing to the steam car and they give excellent service in economical and satisfactory performance," Sales Manager Morryson told The Times to-day.

The Oldsmobile is a very popular car and there is an immense demand for it everywhere. Now that we are able to get better delivery, we are carrying in our showrooms four different models.

"The reduction in the price just announced makes it possible for the motorist to buy an Oldsmobile for the price he would pay for most of the modern sizes."

The Oldsmobile plant at Oshawa is now working to capacity and it will be surprising to most people to know that in addition to employing hundreds of Canadians at the big factories the concern has a payroll of $402,000 a month, all of which goes toward helping along better conditions and keeping money in circulation," said Mr. Morryson, who extends an invitation to the public to visit the company's showrooms at 925 Yates Street.

MOTOR REGISTRATION SHOWS INCREASE

How Canada's Registration Shows Steady Increase

Canada's registration of motor vehicles for 1921 showed an increase of more than 50,000 over the previous year, according to official figures issued by the Highway Branch of the Department of Railways and Canals. Last year there were 463,548 motor vehicles registered in the Dominion, as against 415,268 the previous year. In 1911, ten years previous, there were only 21,519 registrations. Total revenues from registrations were $7,669,493, practically all of which was expended by the different provinces on highway improvements.

On the 1921 census of 8,782,422 persons in the Dominion, there was one motor vehicle for every 12 persons in Canada. Saskatchewan, with 51,175 vehicles and 757,271 persons, or one vehicle per 12 persons, had the highest comparative registration. Ontario, with 206,517 vehicles and 2,335,153 persons, and Alberta, with 49,292 vehicles and 584,454 persons, tied for second place with one vehicle per 14 persons. Prince Edward Island, with 1,751 vehicles to 26,655 persons, had the lowest per capita registration, with one vehicle per 51 of population.

There were 49,709 chauffeurs registered, 60,990 operators, and registrations showed a total of 1,823 tractors registered, of which 1,603 were in Alberta.

WHAT TO DO WHEN GAS PRESSURE VARIES

If you have a persistent fluctuation in your gasoline pressure the first place to look for the trouble is in the tank cup or cover; make sure of the washer, many times the trouble is here.

Look at all the line connections; then look at the pump itself. If the trouble isn't here, it may be in the release valve, strainer or in the tank itself.

Keep your gasoline pressure at the amount designated in your instruction book.

It is a good plan to blow out the gasoline feed line with compressed air from time to time. Lay your service station do this for you.

SCRAPE WIRE

Care should be taken in connecting up any battery, wet-cells or dry cells with a good grade of insulated rubber covered with wire, and see that the ends of the wire attached to the binding posts are scraped clean and bright.

SHIFT GEARS

If it is seen that a hill can not be taken on high gear, shift into second or low as required, before the car has been allowed to lose momentum.

HOW MOTORISTS LEARN TO DRIVE IN SOUTH

Hupmobile People Put on Some Novel Tests

A Hupmobile won the distinction of capturing first prize in the Ladies' Driving Contest, for cars not over 15-inch wheelbase, which was one of the features of the Call of the Open Road programme, recently held in Los Angeles.

The purpose of the contest—this having been the second annual one for Los Angeles—is to educate the motorist in those essentials that are necessary to good driving under ordinary traffic and road conditions to the end that accidents may be reduced and the loss of human life brought to a minimum.

Although more women entered the contest than men, a prominent spectator remarked: "If every driver, whether male or female, was com-
